General Electric Announces Plan to Employ Mostly Women in Former R. C. A. Building at Saugerties

New Plant Will Employ Only 325 Persons; U. S. E. S. Office Reports Expected Demand for 500 Men

Saugerties hopes for a heavy male industry, predicated on the long-awaited transfer of the General Electric sub-plant from Bridgeport to the former R. C. A. building, received a severe setback over the week-end.

The first indication that the carefully-guarded hopes of the Saugerties citizenry were due for a rebuff came last week when G. E. officials instructed the Kingston and Saugerties branches of the United States Employment Service to accept applications with a heavy emphasis on female help.

Reports that the new plant would employ only 325 persons instead of the anticipated 500 to 700 men were confirmed this morning by George J. Stanton, manager of the local U. S. E. S. office.

"General Electric officials have requested us to accept applications for approximately 300 female and 20 male jobs," Stanton told a Freeman reporter. The Saugerties branch of the U. S. E. S. also is accepting applications on the same ratio.

Disappointment Is Voiced
Disclosure of G. E.'s plans brought sharp repercussions in Saugerties business and civic circles. Official spokesmen who requested anonymity flatly declared that if G. E. goes through with its announced intentions of hiring an overwhelming majority of female help, the move would create a serious disappointment in Saugerties.

"Throughout the long negotiations between Knaust Brothers and G. E. officials to transfer the plant here, we were under the impression that it would provide employment for the men of our village especially war veterans," a Saugerties business man said today.

"We were led to believe that G. E. would employ 500 and 700 men and naturally we felt that would take good care of our returning veterans," the spokesman added. "The proposed plan of hiring 300 women and only 30 men is going to cause considerable disappointment in this town."

Women Get Priority
The G. E. in its notice to the United States Employment offices requested that Saugerties women be given first priority on jobs. Beyond that it made no commitments on the type of labor it would hire.

John C. Sauer, Saugerties real estate agent who has been very active in the negotiations with General Electric, announced today that he had received a request from G. E. officials for housing facilities.

Morgan Hill Boy Hurt in Tumble

Fell 30 Feet From Tower on Kreyer Property; Injures Spine

Thomas Francis Houlihan, 18, of Morgan Hill, was reported in "fair" condition today at the Kingston Hospital where he was taken by the Conner Ambulance Service Sunday afternoon suffering from a severe back injury which he received when he fell a distance of about 30 feet from an observation tower on the Anne Kreyer property at Morgan Hill.

Houlihan, accompanied by Glenford Beesmer, Eva Beesmer and Patricia McCordie, all of Route 1, Kingston, had gone for a walk in the woods Sunday afternoon. At the tower, which had been erected on the Kreyer property for observation purposes, the young people climbed the tower which was estimated to be at least 30 feet in height. On the second level, about 30 feet from the ground, Houlihan apparently slipped and fell to the ground, landing on some brush which broke his fall to the rocks below. The young folks became frightened when they found Houlihan so severely injured and started for assistance. They met a party on the highway and a car for aid was sent in and the State Police called. When Trooper Maliga arrived on the scene he found

Senators Puzzle Over Inclusions in Minimum Wages

Three and Half Millions in Interstate Commerce Jobs Have Bearing on Many Others

Washington, April 1 (AP)—Stabilization Director Chester Bowles today declared the cost of living would jump six per cent or more under the farm parity formula passed by the Senate.

The plan, which allows farm labor costs to be considered in figuring parity prices, was tacked to the minimum wage bill although a presidential veto is threatened. The bill still is pending in the Senate.

Bowles said the amendment would shoot retail food prices up about 15 per cent and increase the average family's annual food budget around $125, besides forcing an increase of seven per cent in store prices of cotton garments. He called it sharply inflationary.

The estimates were contained in a letter to Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) dated March 14. Bowles released it today.

Washington, April 1 (AP)—Whether to bring 3,500,000 more workers under the wage-hour act puzzled senators today as they returned to work on the veto-threatened minimum wage bill.

The 3,500,000 are employees of industries "affecting" interstate commerce. Their addition would bring about 23,500,000 of the nation's 40,000,000 workers in industry and agriculture under the law, Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) reported in recommending their inclusion.

Senator Hatch (D-N. M.) has moved to strike out the broadening section on the ground that there would be confusion over who goes in and who stays out.

Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) denied this, saying that similar language was used in the National Labor Relations Act.

Hatch lodged his motion Friday afternoon and the Senate added an amendment to the minimum wage bill establishing a revised farm parity formula which would take into account the cost of agricultural labor.

The parity amendment went in by a vote of 43 to 31, despite the fact that Majority Leader Barkley told the Senate President Truman had notified him he would be "compelled" to veto the wage bill if it came to the White House with the parity provision.

U. S. Army Will End Its China Theatre Job May 1

Shanghai, April 1 (AP)—Deactivation of the United States Army in the China theatre May 1 was announced today by Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer upon instructions from the joint chiefs of staff in Washington.

This will leave 3,000 to 4,000 U. S. Army personnel in China to carry on with the military advisory group headed by General George C. Marshall and to serve on the cease fire truce teams and aid with repatriation and similar residual duties.

Those figures were announced by Wedemeyer. He said only 6,000 U. S. troops are in China now, at wartime peak.

The 30,000 marines under his command will revert to Navy control, Wedemeyer said. He did not indicate whether they might leave north China. However, the marines are being demobilized rapidly.

(From Tsingtao, Associated Press Correspondent Olen Clements reported that the Sixth Marine Division was deactivated today and reactivated into the new Third Marine Brigade. He said this was in accordance with the Marine Corps postwar schedule. In addition the First Division and the First Marine Air Wing are in north China.)

Wedemeyer is scheduled to leave Thursday for the United States. He plans to undergo a sinus opera-

13 Limited Service Men Leave City

Contingent Off for Armed Forces Today Made Up of Reclassified Draftees

Kingston's first contingent for the armed forces, in which is included a large percentage of men formerly classified for limited service, left the draft board office at 10 o'clock this morning for an army induction center in Albany, where they were inducted into the armed forces.

The contingent numbered 13 men, all under 26 years of age. Seven of the men had formerly been classified as limited service. Another contingent, numbering 14 men, all under 26 years of age, also left for the induction center for pre-induction physical examinations.

Earlier this year the local draft board were notified by the Selective Service headquarters to reclassify all men who had formerly been placed in the limited service classification.

Greek Elections Show Leftists Are Losers; Vote Heavy

Way Is Paved for Possible Return of King George to Throne; 20 Die in Clashes

By L. S. CHAKALES

Athens, April 1 (AP)—An overwhelming defeat for Communists and other left wing parties was indicated today on the basis of unofficial returns from yesterday's parliamentary elections, which paved the way for the possible return of King George II to the Greek throne.

Clashes between Communists and government forces resulted in 20 deaths, most of which occurred Friday and Saturday. Order prevailed in most sections of the country during the actual voting.

Returns showed that the balloting was heavy, despite a Russian-supported leftist campaign to boycott the polls in protest against the holding of elections at this time. Left wing elements had declined to enter candidates in the election, which was the first in Greece since 1936.

Estimates of the number of persons participating ranged from 65 to 75 per cent of the total electorate. Only 63 per cent of the voters participated in the 1936 elections.

Official returns continued to come in slowly, but an unofficial tabulation indicated that the Populists, would gain a clear cut majority of the 334 parliamentary seats.

The official returns showed the National Bloc—a coalition of Nationalists, Social Democrats and Venizelist Liberals—and middle-of-the-road liberals running a neck and neck race for second place, with The National Bloc slightly off front.

A spokesman for The National Bloc, George Papandreu, said the election was "a shattering defeat for Communism." Premier Themis

New Stretch of Road Would Correct Slide

A half-mile stretch of 24-foot concrete pavement between Kingston and Ellenville, one of 18 projects covering almost 62 miles of important highway construction throughout New York State, will be let for public bid on April 7, the State Department of Public Works announced today.

The project, officially listed as 0.55 miles in length, will cover the stretch or road known as the "Kerhonkson slide."

Bids will be received at the State Office Building on April 7 at 10:30 a. m. by Charles H. Sells, State Superintendent of Public Works.

This will be the fourth of the bi-weekly lettings of 1946 which the department resumed in March in which the wartime surplus set aside in the postwar reconstruction fund are applied in the vigorous programs of vitally needed highway work.

Mayor O'Dwyer Submits New York's Highest Budget, 857 Million Dollars

New York, April 1 (AP)—Mayor William O'Dwyer today submitted to the Board of Estimate a 1946-1947 executive budget totaling $857,131,849.90—the highest in the city's history.

The budget showed an increase of $93,514,582.92 over the current budget and indicated a five-point rise in the city's basic tax rate, which is expected to jump from $2.67 to $2.72 per $100 assessed valuation.

"This is the first post-war budget," O'Dwyer said in a 47-page message to the board. "It was inevitable that this budget be much larger than any of those submitted during the war years."

He estimated that the four new taxes authorized by the state legislature would yield $87,093,000 next year, including $49,000,000 from the proposed additional one per cent sales tax. The new taxes must be approved by the City Council before they become effective.

The other new taxes include a

Ferryboat Is Named For George Clinton

The ferryboat Richmond, which will shortly begin operating between this city and Rhinecliff, has been renamed the George Clinton. Clinton was an Ulster county native, in 1777 the first governor of New York state and is buried in the yard of the old First Dutch Reformed Church.

The ferryboat received its new name from the New York State Bridge Authority.

The ferry George Clinton is now at the Hiltibrant shipyard at Connelly, where she will shortly be placed in drydock for painting and renovating. It is expected that she will be ready to begin operating on the Hudson river about the last of this month.

Veteran, Family Face Eviction as Result of Old Law

'Summary Proceedings' Act Is Basis for Removal of McElrath's; Marshal Says It's Archaic

The seriousness of the housing shortage in Kingston was disclosed this morning in summary proceedings that have been taken to evict the family of a former G. I. when it was revealed that City Marshal John Melville will be forced to dispossess the present occupants at 185 Smith avenue.

"The summary proceedings law is archaic and should be amended," declared the city marshal when questioned today.

The family who will be evicted, unless they move from the house before 1:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, consists of Mrs. Maude Ewel, her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John McElrath and the McElrath's four small children.

Mr. McElrath, who served during World War 2, has already purchased a house at 43 Derrenbacher street, which is occupied by a family, who also have four children. This family had purchased a house on Van Buren street, but that is also occupied.

The property on Smith avenue occupied by Mr. McElrath and his family and mother-in-law, has been purchased by Mrs. Jean May, whose husband also served in World War 2.

No Defense Offered

The city marshal pointed out that Mrs. May brought action to obtain possession of the property she had purchased, and that at the hearing no defense was offered by Mrs. Ewel, and as Mrs. May's papers were in order, she has the right to obtain possession under summary proceedings.

Discussing the situation that has developed City Marshal Melville said that the present summary proceedings law should be amended to allow judges discretionary powers of adjustment in cases such as the present one.

"I believe," said the city marshal "that the existing summary proceedings law to be an outstanding or glaring example of property rights over human rights. In my opinion, I believe, the law is responsible for breaking up family spirit, and causing physical and mental illness in the family."

"I believe further," continued Mr. Melville, "that the execution of dispossession warrants cause a family to lose self respect and forces parents with children to take up with undesirable living quarters. The factors of physical and mental illness, the lowering of self respect, and embarrassment, arouse antagonism against the law, and form the basis for incubation of anti-social ideas that in time cause one of the greatest sources of juvenile delinquency of any law on the books."

Two Ways Are Open

City Marshal Melville in reply to a question as to whether there is any process whereby such an eviction can be stopped, said: "Yes, there are two ways. A Supreme court order, if there are legal grounds, can hold up the execution of a warrant. The other way is humane kindness on the part of the landlord in dealing in a Christian way to grant the ten-

Nation's Reconversion Is to Feel Stoppage if Walkout Lasts Long Period

Akron Is Hit

Transportation Tieup Slows Thousands in Ohio

Pittsburgh, April 1 (AP)—A work stoppage by the nation's soft coal miners, backing up the traditional "no contract, no work" policy of the A. F. L.-United Mine Workers, began today for 400,000 workers whose collective bargaining contract expired at midnight.

The White House said that President Truman has no plans for intervening in the bituminous coal mining stoppage.

Press Secretary Charles G. Ross, asked at a news conference if the President will do anything about the walkout, replied: "That is in the hands of the Secretary of Labor."

Calm settled over the coal fields. President John L. Lewis of the union, said there would be no picketing. Rationing of coal was started on government orders to insure supplies for urgent uses. The stoppage in production, if prolonged, threatened to disrupt the country's reconversion program, already, one major steel company announced it would have to hand 20 blast furnaces.

The beginning of the work stoppage found members of the union ready for a holiday anyway—their annual celebration of April 1 in honor of John Mitchell, one of the union's earliest presidents and to commemorate the 48th anniversary of the eight-hour day. Actually, the effects of the strike therefore will not be felt until tomorrow.

President Lewis' principal demand from the coal industry is the establishment of a health and welfare fund for miners, to be created from an assessment on each ton of coal produced and to be administered by the union. The operators balked. The National Coal Association said such a "royalty payment" levied for the benefit of the union, would make Lewis "a dictator more powerful than any America has ever known."

Refuses Discussion
Lewis refused to discuss other major issues of wages and hours until the welfare fund question is settled.

Hope was held out that the stoppage would be brief. Operators and union representatives remained in Washington to continue negotiations. Secretary of Labor Schwelienbach, who on Saturday gave up hope of averting the walkout, named Paul Fuller of Akron, O., as a special mediator to represent him at the conferences. Fuller also is special conciliator in the rubber industry, in which he achieved agreement without a strike. Schwelienbach said:

Reports from coal areas said arrangements for union maintenance men to keep the pits in condition and Schwelienbach asserted he had assurance from Lewis that utilities dependent on coal would be provided for.

President J. L. Perry of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp. in announcing 20 of the corporation's 32 blast furnaces in the Pittsburgh area faced the necessity of banking "almost immediately" with a strike, said:

"This situation would affect steel workers throughout this United States Steel subsidiary and industry generally, resulting in the enforced idleness of a large number. In addition, many other workers would be affected to the extent of having only partial employment. Steelworkers have lost considerable time since January 21, the

For this total of 25,659 hours the pupils earned the sum of $11,343.10 in the part time employment for which work-experience credit was granted in their school work.

The average hourly wage was 44.21 cents per hour.

Kingston Merchants Co-operated in the Program

Kingston merchants co-operated in the program during the Christmas period when 136 students were placed in retail establishments of the city to assist in handling the Christmas retail trade.

Mayor O'Dwyer Submits New York's Highest Budget, 857 Million Dollars

New York, April 1 (AP)—Mayor William O'Dwyer today submitted to the Board of Estimate a 1946-1947 executive budget totaling $857,131,849.90—the highest in the city's history.

The budget showed an increase of $93,514,582.92 over the current budget and indicated a five-point rise in the city's basic tax rate, which is expected to jump from $2.67 to $2.72 per $100 assessed valuation.

"This is the first post-war budget," O'Dwyer said in a 6-page message to the board. "It was inevitable that this budget would be much larger than any of those submitted during the war years."

He estimated that the four new taxes authorized by the state legislature would add $57,000,000 to the proposed additional one per cent sales tax. The new taxes must be approved by the City Council before they become effective.

The other new taxes include a tax on the rental of hotel rooms, a tax on the part-mutual play at local race tracks and doubling of the existing tax on business enterprises.

"My efforts to obtain assistance from the state were unsuccessful," he said.

O'Dwyer again expressed his opposition to the proposal that the subway fare be increased, contending that such an increase would not solve the city's financial problems. "It is evident," he said, "that those who are advocating an increased fare know this as well as I do."

The budget contained appropriations of $54,769,252.37 to carry the transit debt service requirements for next year.

The mayor proposed that some 107,269 city employees be given salary increases totalling $15,091,422 and recommended that the high-cost-of-living bonuses now being paid continue for the next fiscal year. Most increases ranged from $120 to $240 annually.

"I believe," said the city marshal, "that the existing summary proceedings law to be an outstanding or glaring example of property rights over human rights. In my opinion, I believe, the law is responsible for breaking up family spirit and causing physical and mental illness in the family."

"I believe further," continued Mr. Melville, "that the execution of dispossession warrants cause a family to lose self respect and forces parents with children to take up with undesirable living quarters. The factors of physical and mental illness, the lowering of self respect, and embarrassment, arouse antagonism against the law, and form the basis for incubation of anti-social ideas that in time cause one of the greatest sources of juvenile delinquency of any law on the books."

Two Ways Are Open

City Marshal Melville in reply to a question as to whether there is any process whereby such an eviction can be stopped, said: "Yes, there are two ways. A Supreme court order, if there are legal grounds, can hold up the execution of a warrant. The other way is humane kindness on the part of the landlord in dealing in a Christian way to grant the tenant a reprieve."

Nation's Reconversion Is to Feel Stoppage if Walkout Lasts Long Period

Akron Is Hit

Transportation Tieup Slows Thousands in Ohio

Pittsburgh, April 1 (AP)—A work stoppage by the nation's soft coal miners, backing up the traditional "no contract, no work" policy of the A.F.L.-United Mine Workers, began today for 400,000 workers whose collective bargaining contract expired at midnight.

The White House said that President Truman has no plans for intervening in the bituminous coal mining stoppage.

Press Secretary Charles G. Ross, asked at a news conference if the President will do anything about the walkout, replied: "That is in the hands of the Secretary of Labor."

Calm settled over the coal fields, President John L. Lewis of the union, said there would be no picketing. Rationing of coal was started on government orders to insure supplies for urgent uses. The stoppage in production, if prolonged, threatened to disrupt the country's reconversion program, already, one major steel company announced it would have to bank 20 blast furnaces.

The beginning of the work stoppage found members of the union ready for a holiday. Any day's annual celebration of April 1 in honor of John Mitchell, one of the union's earliest presidents and to commemorate the 48th anniversary of the eight-hour day. Actually, the effects of the strike therefore will not be felt until tomorrow.

President Lewis' principal demand from the coal industry is the establishment of a health and welfare fund for miners, to be created from an assessment on each ton of coal produced and to be administered by the union. The operators balked. The National Coal Association said such a "royalty payment" levied for the benefit of the union, would make Lewis a dictator more powerful than any America has ever known."

Refuses Discussion

Lewis refused to discuss other major issues of wages and hours until the welfare fund question is settled.

Hope was held out that the stoppage would be brief. Operators and union representatives remained in Washington to continue negotiations. Secretary of Labor Schwelienbach said on Saturday gave up hope of averting the walkout, named Paul Fuller of Akron, O., as a special mediator to represent him at the conferences. Fuller also is special conciliator in the rubber industry, in which he achieved agreement without a strike. Schwelienbach said.

Reports from coal areas said arrangements had been completed previously for union maintenance, much to keep the pits in condition and Schwelienbach asserted he had assurance from Lewis that utilities dependent on coal would be provided for.

President J. L. Perry, of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp., in announcing 20 of the corporation's 32 blast furnaces in the Pittsburgh area faced the necessity of banking "almost immediately" with a strike, said:

"This situation would affect steel workers throughout this United States Steel subsidiary and industry generally, resulting in the enforced idleness of a large number. In addition, many other workers would be affected to the extent of having only partial employment. Steelworkers have lost considerable time since January 21, the

Midwest Gets Sizzling Weather As East Shivers

(By The Associated Press)

The weather provided its own April Fool fun today, bringing snow to New York while forcing midwesterners to peel to their shirt sleeves.

The forecaster predicted a high of 80 degrees in Chicago, which would be an all-time record for the day. The old mark of 73 for April 1 is a holdover from 1882. Other places in the midwest and southeast felt the breath of summer yesterday. The mercury rose to 101 in Laredo, Tex., 93 in Topeka, Kans., and 89 in Kansas City. St. Louis had a night low of 70, as compared to a normal 44.

The snow flurries in New York were brief and light, but unmistakable. The temperature was 39 and the snow melted as soon as it hit the ground. Chill weather was prevalent throughout the east as cool air moved in from the west. In Charleston, S. C., the temperature dropped to 46 yesterday. Florida and Gulf states were unaffected by the cool wave, however.

Know your Regular Army in Peace

Victory has stilled the guns of war and stopped the terrible carnage of combat. But it has not ended the task to which this nation has dedicated itself since December 7, 1941.

On the armies which conquered the aggressors now falls the solemn obligation of securing their hard-won triumph... of bringing order out of the chaos of war-torn countries... of carrying out the commitments entered into by our Government.

More than half a million young men from every corner of the United States already have joined the new peacetime Regular Army to see this job through, and to take advantage of the splendid new enlistment privileges which make the peacetime Regular Army one of the most attractive careers open to them today.

On April 6, Army Day, you will have an opportunity to meet your new Army face to face at public exhibits and demonstrations throughout the United States. By visiting these displays, you will, perhaps for the first time, appreciate the full scope of the Army's activities, and the enormous contributions they make to every-day civilian life.

The Army's research and exploration in radar, electronics, aviation, communications, chemistry, medicine, sanitation, disease control, mechanics, engineering and countless other fields are all important to you. For eventually you benefit from their inventions, developments and improvements.

This is your Army... an Army of which you can well be proud. Make a point of making its acquaintance on Army Day—April 6!

No Kidding

Oakland, Calif., April 1 (AP)—Radio Announcer Jimmy Muir learned the hard way you can't kid about nylons or butter.

He jested into the mike thusly: "A leading Oakland department store will place 5,000 pairs of nylons on sale Monday morning—but as usual, there is a catch."

"You must buy 10 pounds of butter for every pair of nylons. Be sure to state the exact color of butter desired."

The station was swamped with telephone calls from women wanting to know where and what time.

A Safety Hook

Temple, Tex., April 1 (AP)—Two boys, Charles Turner of Waco and Robert Walker of Temple, were caught in an undertow of the Leon river and washed over a dam yesterday.

Three Temple fishermen saw their plight and cast heavy fish lines toward the boys. R. L. and Gene Swan pulled Walker out of the strong undercurrent.

Hubert Lancaster hooked Turner in the leg and reeled him in, unconscious, but the boy was revived.

Chiles' port of Valparaiso is finding the peacetime revival of shipping more than it can stand, most of its cargo-handling equipment being practically out of service after wartime disuse. It is estimated that more than $5,000,000 will be required to repair facilities and get new cranes.

Davey Dies

MARTIN L. DAVEY

Kent, O., April 1 (AP)—Former Gov. Martin L. Davey, 61, one of Ohio's most colorful politicians, died of a heart attack while entertaining guests at his home yesterday.

Death came as he added up scores of a bridge game.

A business man as well as politician, Davey built his father's tree surgery business into a nation-wide organization, served two terms as Ohio's governor, 1935 to 1939, and represented the state's 14th district for four terms in Congress.

Martin Luther Davey left a million-dollar, tree-surgery business to take over the job of governor of Ohio. Asked why he preferred the political post, with its manifold problems and headaches, Davey replied:

"I get a thrill out of it."

He played politics, some said, as recklessly as he played contract bridge. But he quickly grabbed the "breaks," and many persons credited him with being one of the shrewdest political opportunists who ever sat in the governor's chair at Columbus.

Davey broke into politics in 1913 as the "boy mayor" of Kent, his home town, at the age of 28. He served six years in the office and nine years in Congress. He attained the governorship in 1935, served two two-year terms and provided a tumultuous and exciting administration.

When the Democrats refused to nominate him for a third term in 1938, he told friends he was not through and was keeping his "pitching arm in good shape."

Davey's father, John, an Englishman, came to America in 1873. Martin was born July 25, 1884, in a two-room house on the banks of the Cuyahoga river where his father operated a small greenhouse.

At the age of 11 Martin peddled vegetables from house to house in Kent to help support his family. He was graduated from Kent High School, attended Oberlin Academy and in 1907 became general manager of the Davey Tree Expert Company, founded by his father.

New War Not Impossible, But Balance Favors Peace

By DeWITT MACKENZIE
AP World Traveler

Paris, March 25—Whenever two or more serious-minded folk get together these days the conversation almost inevitably arrives at a discussion of whether this war-torn Europe is headed for another conflict.

That's a question which unhappily can't be dismissed as absurd, and it's one which your correspondent has studied diligently during a protracted tour. The answer as I see it is this:

The danger of a further upheaval does exist. However, war not only isn't inevitable but the balance is on the side of peace at this writing.

And what has created such a threat as exists? Well, there's no great mystery about that. It's due to differences among the major powers in connection with the realignment of the zones of influence both in Europe and in Asia. Power politics is another designation for it.

The newborn might of Russia is pouring into much of the vacuum created by the disappearance of Germany, Italy and Japan as first class powers, and by the disintegration of France and Britain to defend their place in the sun.

Until that realignment is finished, peace will be in danger. There remains some highly delicate points to be settled—for example, Moscow's intentions regarding Austria, Turkey, Iran and Manchuria—but if and when they have been ironed out the danger of trouble will have been reduced to a minimum, unless some power displays ambition to exceed the new zones of influence.

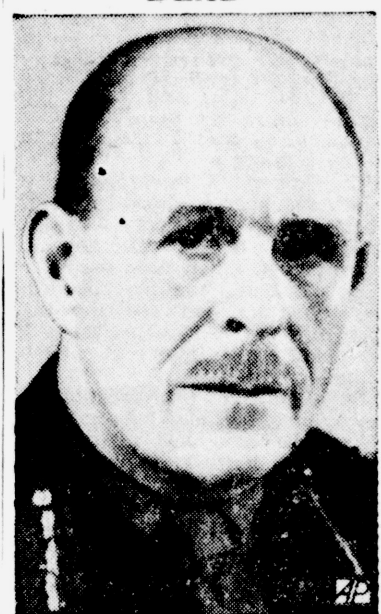

Generalissimo Stalin, in an company into a national organization with branches in more than 70 cities.

Davey entered Congress, to fill out an unexpired term, in 1918. He was defeated in 1920 but was elected again in 1922 and re-elected in 1924 and 1926. The Democrats nominated him for governor in 1928, but he lost in the general election to Myers Y. Cooper, a Republican.

Scotland will get South African oranges and pears this year, but not peaches, plums or grapes, Glasgow reports. The British Government is reserving all available shipping space for import of "essentials" and only oranges and pears come under that category, so far as imported fruits are concerned.

Help Get More Soaps, BRING IN USED FATS!

THIS country is short of industrial fats, mighty short. The supply is so low that the government must decide how much fat can be released to make soap; how much for other peacetime goods. The shortage would be even worse without the wonderful help American housewives are giving by turning in used fats.

Keep saving to tide us over this emergency. It will help you get more soaps and other products you want so much.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

Do Not Disturb

Corning, N. Y., April 1 (AP)—The housing shortage was responsible for this message on city police headquarters board:

—Is sleeping in his own car on North Pine street. Do not disturb him.

Officials explained the car occupant had been forced to seek quarters after fire damaged his rooming house.

No Kidding

Oakland, Calif., April 1 (AP)—Radio Announcer Jimmy Muir learned the hard way you can't kid about nylons or butter.

He joked into the mike thusly:

"A leading Oakland department store will place 5,000 pairs of nylons on sale Monday morning."

"You must buy 10 pounds of butter for every pair of nylons."

He was sure to state the exact color of butter desired.

The station was swamped with 500 telephone calls from women wanting to know where and what time.

A Safety Hook

Temple, Tex., April 1 (AP)—Two boys, Charles Turner of Waco and Robert Walker of Temple, were caught in an undertow of the Leon river and washed over a dam yesterday.

Three Temple fishermen saw their plight and cast heavy fish lines toward the boys. R. L. and Gene Swan pulled Walker out of the strong undercurrent.

Robert Lancaster hooked Turner in the leg and reeled him in, unconscious, but the boy was revived.

Flying Paper Boy

Harrisburg, Ill., April 1 (AP)—Pete Turner, Saline county's flying coroner, is giving some of his farmer-friends special newspaper delivery service.

Turner, who likes to make early Sunday morning flights in his plane over Illinois rural areas, takes along a bundle of Sunday newspapers. He ties them with string and flies low over the homes of his friends and drops each a newspaper.

New Blood

Willmar, Minn., April 1 (AP)—Maurice Lindblad has upset the Johnson political cart. For several years all of the successful candidates for Whiteside township offices have been named Johnson. But this year Lindblad won the post of supervisor.

Harbor Needs Repairs

Chiles' port of Valparaiso is finding the peacetime revival of shipping more than it can stand, most of its cargo-handling equipment being practically out of service after wartime disuse. It is estimated that more than $5,000,000 will be required to repair facilities and get new cranes.

MARTIN L. DAVEY

Kent, O., April 1 (AP)—Former Gov. Martin L. Davey, 61, one of Ohio's most colorful politicians, died of a heart attack while entertaining guests at his home yesterday.

Death came as he added up scores of a bridge game.

A business man as well as politician, Davey built his father's tree surgery business into a nation-wide organization, served two terms as Ohio's governor, 1935 to 1939, and represented the state's 14th district for four terms in Congress.

Martin Luther Davey left a million-dollar tree-surgery business to take over the job of governor of Ohio. Asked why he preferred the political post, with its manifold problems and headaches, Davey replied:

"I got a thrill out of it."

He played politics, some said, as recklessly as he played contract bridge. But he quickly grabbed the "breaks," and many persons credited him with being one of the shrewdest political opportunists who ever sat in the governor's chair at Columbus.

Davey broke into politics in 1913 as the "boy mayor" of Kent, his home town, at the age of 28.

He served six years in the office and nine years in Congress. He attained the governorship in 1935, served two two-year terms and provided a tumultuous and exciting administration.

When the Democrats refused to nominate him for a third term in 1938, he told friends he was not through and was keeping his "pitching arm in good shape."

Davey's father, John, an Englishman, came to America in 1875.

Martin was born July 25, 1884, in a two-room house on the banks of the Cuyahoga river where his father operated a small greenhouse.

At the age of 11 Martin peddled vegetables from house to house in Kent to help support his family. He was graduated from Kent High School, attended Oberlin Academy and in 1907 became general manager of the Davey Tree Expert Company, founded by his father.

New War Not Impossible, But Balance Favors Peace

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Paris, March 25—Whenever two or more serious-minded folk get together these days the conversation almost inevitably arrives at a discussion of whether this war-torn Europe is headed for another conflict.

That's a question which unhappily can't be dismissed as absurd, and it's one which your correspondent has studied diligently during a protracted tour. The answer as I see it is this:

The danger of a further upheaval does exist. However, war not only isn't inevitable but the balance is on the side of peace at this writing.

And what has created such a threat as exists? Well, there's no great mystery about that.

It's the maneuvering of the European powers in connection with the realignment of the zones of influence both in Europe and in Asia. Power politics is another designation for it.

The newborn might of Russia is pouring into much of the vacuum created by the disappearance of Germany, Italy and Japan as first class powers, and by the disintegration of France and Britain to defend their place in the sun.

Until that realignment is finished, peace will be in danger. There remains some highly delicate points to be settled—for example, Moscow's intentions regarding Austria, Turkey, Iran and Manchuria—but if and when they have been ironed out the danger of trouble will have been reduced to a minimum, unless some power displays ambition to exceed the new zones of influence.

Generalissimo Stalin, in an intricate company into a national organization with branches in more than 70 cities.

Davey entered Congress, to fill out an unexpired term, in 1918. He was defeated in 1920 but was elected again in 1922 and re-elected in 1924 and 1926. The Democrats nominated him for governor in 1932, but he lost in the general election to Myers Y. Cooper, a Republican.

Scotland will get South African oranges and pears this year, but not peaches, plums or grapes, Glasgow reports. The British Government is reserving all available shipping space for import of "essentials" and only oranges and pears come under that category, so far as imported fruits are concerned.

April Fool's Day

One belief as to the origin of "April fool's day" goes back to Noah. It was believed that he sent out the dove from the ark on the first of the month that corresponds to our April. On its first trip the dove returned without a token of the flood's abatement. From this came the custom of sending persons out on a "fool's errand" similar to that on which Noah launched the luckless bird.

It was during a big bargain sale and tempers were rising: Woman Customer (glaring at salesgirl)—If I were trying to match politeness, I'd have a hard time finding it here. Salesgirl—Will you kindly let me see your samples, madam?

Immunity

Of the atomic bomb I have very few fears; I've been living with one for the last twenty years. A Husband.

One evening the young minister, who had seemed rather attractive to Grace, the older daughter was dining with the family. Mayme, the little sister, was talking rapidly when the visitor was about to ask the blessing. Turning to the child, he said: Minister—Mayme, I'm going to ask grace. Mayme (promptly)—Well, its about time. We've been expecting it nearly a year and Grace has too.

EX-SERVICEMEN'S CLOTHES PROBLEM

The mother of a bridegroom-to-be writes: "My son is just back from several years' service in the Army overseas. He has outgrown the clothes that I packed away when he left and the prospects for getting what he knows he should have for his wedding are indeed slim. His bride is planning a bridal dress and veil and is having six bridesmaids in typical brides' dresses. But my son can not get a dark blue suit in time for the wedding and has only his tan uniform or a brown with belted back. The other men in the wedding will still be in uniforms. What is your suggestion?"

If permitted to do so, he too should wear his uniform which explains itself, and cannot possibly look wrong. Brown civilian clothes such as you describe would be a really unsuitable choice.

Reason for Joining Bridegroom's Church

Dear Mrs. Post: Would it be wrong for me to join my future husband's church before we are married? I have been going to his church—in fact, my own parents go there often because they like the minister—and it would be a very much more beautiful church in which to plan a wedding.

Answer: Of course, you may join the church, and ask the clergyman of your choice to perform your marriage service. No one could possibly criticize you for not waiting until later for a change you intend to make.

They Go Out of the Front Door!

Dear Mrs. Post: Perhaps it sounds unsuitable, but I am wearing a tailored suit at my wedding, which will be attended only by intimate friends and a few relatives but which will be followed by a large reception. Naturally, I am wearing this same suit away. The question comes of how, gracefully, to leave the reception when there is no necessity for leaving to dress again.

Answer: I don't see that there is any question. Instead of going upstairs alone to dress, you and your husband go out of the front door together!

A Few—Certainly
Dear Mrs. Post: Is it correct to put crackers in oyster soup?

Answer: Yes, but not a whole fistful at a time.

For Mrs. Post's booklet 501, "The Etiquette of Wedding," send 10 cents in coin and a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope to her in care of Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Governor Signs Child Care Bill

Dewey Also Approves Act to Give Seven Million Supplemental Cash

Albany, N. Y., April 1 (AP)—A $1,000,000 program of state aid for local child care projects was signed today by Governor Dewey.

The governor also approved a $7,000,000 supplemental budget bill, which includes about $2,000,000 to launch his expanded public health program, and $200,000 for the Ives Agricultural Commission—part of which will be used in its study this year of the "milk spread."

Other bills signed appropriate $184,350 for County Farm and Home Bureaus and 4-H Clubs; $200,000 for additional emergency compensation to officers and employees of the Judiciary; $150,000 for such pay to officers and employees of the Legislature; $100,000 to Cornell University and the State Department of Agriculture and Markets for research to eliminate the golden nematode disease of potatoes.

Also signed were bills creating a North Hempstead housing authority, permitting the state to invest in the Central New York Regional Market Authority, requiring no license for taking fish from Hudson river south of the Mid-Hudson bridge at Poughkeepsie, and directing sheriffs to appoint matrons in county jails to take sole charge of female prisoners.

The child care bill, carrying a $1,000,000 appropriation from the supplemental budget, provides for the continuation under the State Youth Commission of the program formerly supervised by the State War Council.

Under the plan, care is given to children of working mothers and of members of the armed forces or maritime service whose mothers are unable to care for them.

"The continuance of the program for child care centers," Dewey said, "is justified by the conditions which arose out of the war and which have not completely subsided."

The governor said that the farm organization aid measure "will assist substantially in giving more and more of our farm people opportunities for better living and better production."

Encourages Boys' Clubs

Albany, N. Y., April 1 (AP)—This is Boys' Club Week in New York state and Governor Dewey says such organization should be "encouraged to the greatest extent possible." The clubs, the governor said in proclaiming the event, "are doing much to combat juvenile delinquency" and are proving that their 250,000 members in New York state "can live, work and play together in peace and harmony, regardless of creed or nationality."

'These Days'

By George E. Sokolsky

BRASS HATS AND CASTE
When these columns were opened to soldiers with gripes, it was with the definite desire to see justice done and the army strengthened. It was my feeling that no army could be powerful if thousands of soldiers felt that they were being treated badly.

Apparently, the Communists moved in on this normal American sense of the fitness of things. They utilized the gripes of the soldiers and the sympathy such gripes excited to incite soldiers and their parents to hate the army, to hate its officers, to hate America. Their object, of course, is a simple one, namely, to weaken the armed forces of the United States so that this country would regard itself as incapable of interfering with Russian imperialism throughout the world.

The point of all this is that while many of the gripes of soldiers are justified and whereas it is true that some officers behaved badly—none of that must be an excuse for destroying the efficiency and capacity of the American armed forces. An American officer is an officer, not brass, his exercise of authority is duty, not caste.

Sergeant Joe McCarthy, speaking in a most confused and inconclusive debate on the "Town Meeting of the Air," made this point:

"... The American enlisted man can't see why his officers should belong to a highly specialized, highly privileged special officers caste."

He then made the point that what he calls the "caste system" was all right in the German and the British armies because the officers of those armies were members of an aristocracy. Then he said:

"But the United States is not an aristocracy. It's a democracy. The enlisted man in our armed forces doesn't get this Prussian idea of special social privileges. In the steel mill back home, he obeyed orders from his boss. He didn't associate with his boss after hours. But, if he wanted to he could wear the same kind of clothes as his boss. If he could afford it, he could eat the same kind of food, and drink the same kind of liquor."

That, of course, sounds right but the word "afford" is the rub. The worker who earns $9 a week cannot afford to live at the Waldorf Astoria or eat at the Colony Restaurant. He cannot afford custom-tailored suits or a Lincoln car. He cannot afford to belong to the Metropolitan Club or winter at Hobe Sound, Florida. He can afford to do what his wages will permit him to buy. His boss's position and income make the difference.

Sergeant McCarthy said the difference in this debate is inaccurate. What he is arguing is an egalitarian system—one in which all men are paid in goods or services an equal amount without regard to the differences in the importance or productivity of their work. Every experiment with "egalitarianism," as it is called, in the whole of human history has failed because it has deprived men of every incentive to achievement. Soviet Russia, which experimented with it, dropped it, actually now providing in wages and non-monetary benefits, incentives as great as ours.

I was in Russia in 1937 when a powerful egalitarian movement forced Krensky to issue his famous Order No. 1, which was identical with the ideas of those who speak of brass and caste in this country now. Equality was achieved in the Russian Army but the army melted away into nothing. I witnessed soldiers deserting from every front, selling their uniforms and shoes, a slovy gang of indifferently human beings. When Trotsky organized the Red Army, he knocked all that into the dust.

It is necessary to study this problem with objectivity. If officers have misbehaved, have exceeded their authority, have been unjust and unfair, have acted like barbarians at courts-martial, they should be punished. But because there were some rogues, fools and scoundrels among the American officers in the last war is no excuse for destroying the effectiveness of the army or weakening the defenses of the United States.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

WHAT IS CANCER?

Many may wonder why so much has been learned about other diseases so that they are to a great extent under control, yet so little has been learned about cancer despite all the time spent on cancer research throughout the entire world. Thus tuberculosis is down to just 15 per cent of what it was 30 years ago, diabetes can live many years as can also pernicious anemia patients. Why is cancer such a difficult problem?

Cancer is not entirely a purely human disease. It is found throughout the entire animal kingdom in those who have a back bone. In Handbook of Cancer, prepared by the Canadian Medical Association it is stated: "A cancer is a mass of new cells which multiply without control, not in the regular or orderly manner of other cells, and these cancer cells push their new growth of cells into surrounding spaces and even into the lymphatic vessels and blood vessels. All the other processes of the body have a meaning of their own, that is they do some definite useful work in the body. Every normal cell has two jobs (at work of some kind) its reproduction. Not so with cancer however; all it does is multiply and multiply its cells, doing no useful work but crowding out the useful cells in the surrounding tissue and by means of the lymphatic vessels carrying cells to start cancer (secondary) in other parts of the body."

"Cancer" cells may be termed the gangsters amongst the cells. Usually cancer cells can be recognized by their characteristic appearance, but they may so closely resemble ordinary useful cells of the body that it is only by their disorderly behavior that they are detected.

Research workers in cancer tell us that cancer is not a single or definite disease like typhoid fever. Cancer is a group of diseases each of which has to be studied separately according to its "behavior." The main thought is to try to recognize conditions which may develop into cancer, and as cancer takes a long time to develop if these conditions are prevented cancer can be prevented. Some of these precancerous conditions are (a) a sore that does not heal, (b) a lump anywhere, (c) a changing mole, (d) chronic indigestion.

Home dressing is hitting an all-time high this spring, after a steady increase through the last few years. Pattern sales and yard goods sales are booming, and good sewing teachers have women waiting to get into their classes.

There always was a financial gain in sewing at home, and the shortages and poor materials of wartime accentuated the advantage. The new note is the great demand for China's mystery man and one-man army, General Tai Li, is reported dead. While the death of Tai Li is still not confirmed, reports are already circulating that the new Chinese Gestapo chief will be a Chinese graduate of Moscow's Sun Yat-sen University, which turns out China's Communist leaders. This deepens the suspicion that strange things are happening in China. Tai Li was a Chinese. He called himself a Chinese. He called his Chinese themselves call him that. But the real mystery about Tai Li is the manner in which he led the U. S. Navy on supporting and equipping him. Long after it was clear to most Americans in China that Tai Li had no intention of fighting the Japs with our equipment, our Navy still continued to pour in supplies for him. To what purpose? Americans can rightly ask. Under the SACO (Sino-American Cooperative Organization) the Chinese are to be trained in the use of intelligence on the enemy and the Americans agreed to train and equip Chinese guerrilla forces for sabotage and demolition work behind enemy lines. The Chinese were most reluctant to carry out their part of the agreement once they got their hands on the new Tommy guns and carbines and automatics. Getting a new gun in the SACO was much like getting a toy which had such intrinsic value to the possessor that he did not want to play with it for fear of losing or breaking it.

The experience of Americans who worked with Tai Li's organization was one of the most heart-breaking and disillusioning of the war in Asia. Thousands of officers and men of the U. S. Navy were flown into deep inland China (a strange place for Navy) across the hump from India over the longest life-line in the world to train Li's men. When the Chinese were ready to go into action, a hundred and one excuses were found to delay and put off any offensive effort. The little damage inflicted on the enemy was by small Chinese units led by Americans. Armed with Tommy guns and automatics Tai Li's men straggled through towns in the interior, hated by regular Chinese troops as much as by the civilian population. Again and again they made feints at fighting the enemy only to turn tail and flee. When the port city of Foochow was evacuated by the Japs in the late spring of 1945, regular Chinese troops of the 80th Division carried the attack against the retreating Japs, inflicting heavy losses.

Why did the U. S. Navy continue to support this man? Why was the U. S. Navy placed in charge of ground training for Chinese guerrillas in the first place? This entire set-up led to unpleasant associations between the U. S. Army and the Navy in China. The commanding officer of our naval forces in China openly boasted that he was the real theater commander. He was sent back to Washington but was returned to Chungking each time with new orders to resist the Chinese guerrillas to resist the U. S. Army and the Navy in China. Today, OSS is out of China but Tai Li's men have Tommy guns and carbines and demolitions. Chinese publicists who try to justify the Tai Li organization to Americans make a point of comparing it to our F.B.I. The Chinese in China know the difference in their reference to Tai Li as "Himmler." Our J. Edgar Hoover is not in this category. And to Americans it would be interesting to know what the reported new chief of Tai Li's men is going to do with U. S. Navy-donated arms and equipment. Under the terms of the true agreement between the Kuomintang and the Chinese Communists in China, all secret organizations were to be banned. Which leaves Americans more puzzled than ever. Let's double-talk from both Chungking and Washington would help clear the air that seems to be stifling China at the moment.

'Liberals' Are Acting Along Lines of Previous Coalitions in U.S. History

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, April 1.—Recent what effect it has on his party following in Congress. Rarely has an administration for nearly a quarter of a century, whether Republican or Democratic, attempted to formulate a party program with due regard to the interests of the members of the House or the Senate. Under the New Deal, it became the custom for the executive branch to write bills and bring them to Capitol Hill to be passed irrespective of the wishes of individual members. Again and again the legislators were ignored or their wishes disregarded. Senator Barkley's resignation as party leader of the Senate in 1944 because the late President Roosevelt vetoed a tax bill against the advice of his own leaders was followed immediately by the reelection of Mr. Barkley by the Democrats in the Senate. This was a show of independence which the administration didn't like. But it was in accord with tradition.

For in the United States merges the executive and legislative branches of the government, as is done under the Canadian or British Commonwealth's parliamentary system, there can be no legitimate domination by the President except through the process of public opinion. Congress remains as free to make party policy as does the chief executive. The reason why the southern Democrats have combined on certain issues with the Republicans is because the Democratic party itself is being undermined by its left wing. The anti-left-wing Democrats feel they are as much entitled to make party policy as their opponents, and there is no reason why southern or northern Democrats shouldn't make coalitions with the opposite party at will.

Strangely enough, when the anti-poll-tax controversy was up recently, the northern Democrats who came from states with large Negro constituencies formed a coalition with the Republicans which was beaten only by a filibuster. There is no doubt that such a coalition would have commanded a majority in the Senate if the measure had been permitted to come to a vote. So coalitions are good or bad depending on which side happens to be the beneficiary or the victim of such tactics.

Purges and "reading out" members from either party are not practical under our two-party system. Individuals are free to remain in or leave the party leadership in Congress as they choose, but the voters alone in particular areas can say whether they should be punished or applauded for so doing. Walt Thiel Prepares for Big Year at Twaalfskill Golf Club Greens

Ex-G.I. Is Back After Service in Foreign Theatre

Won Army Praise for His Great Work in Laying Out Golf Course in Ondal, India

Walt Thiel, a home-grown pro who never lost his touch during 30 months of service for Uncle Sam, will resume his post with the Twaalfskill Golf Club this season. Assisting Thiel will be Frank Ball, former Walker Cup competitor of the Bobby Jones era, who served as interim pro, while Thiel was in service.

The combination of Thiel and Ball assures Twaalfskill members of one of the most competent staffs in the Hudson Valley region. Ball will be available on part-time status, while Thiel will be at the course daily.

To Open May 1
Thiel was preparing the course for the official May 1 opening when a Freeman reporter visited him at the colorful downtown course.

The first impression you get of Twaalfskill is that here is a course that places a heavy premium on long, straight drives down the fairway. Its interesting zig-zag cross-over of holes will test the mettle of any golfer. The duffer must beware, especially in these days of golf ball shortages.

A 5,824-yard course over the 18-hole route, Twaalfskill is set up for a par 70. No official records are available, but the unofficial all-time low of 64 is credited to Harry Byrnes, a local sharpshooter. Several prominent "name" golfers have appeared at Twaalfskill at one time or another without threatening that wintry.

The week-end's windy blasts reduced to a minimum the number of early birds, but Thiel anticipates experts and duffers in large numbers before the official opening on May 1.

Two new greens, on holes No. 2 and 8 will greet Twaalfskill players this season. A "horseshoe" effect on the second hole will make it one of the prettiest in the region. No. 8 has been completely renovated, filled in and graded off. Several new tees have been erected at various points in the course.

The clubhouse proper is about to be subjected to extensive alterations and improvements. The interior will be painted and decorated, while a cafeteria will operate full-time. The name of the cafeteria hostesses will be announced in conjunction with the first dinner-dance tentatively scheduled for May 4.

Came Up From Ranks
Twaalfskill's pro—Walt Thiel—is a home-town product in the strictest sense of the word. Like the nationally famous bowlers who came out of the alley pits to achieve fame, Thiel started as a caddy when he was 10 years old. Prior to his appointment as full-fledged pro in 1936, he had assisted in course maintenance at Twaalfskill.

A committee of Thiel's "friends and neighbors" took up their opposition to his services on April 13, 1942 and after the usual induction ceremonies he was whisked to Motrie, Georgia. Six months later, Thiel was en route to India with the 89th Service Squadron to a town known as Ondal, approximately 150 miles from the teeming millions of Calcutta. He returned to the United States to receive his "honorary duck" on September 22, 1945.

Widespread Publicity
It is now a well-known story how Thiel, working for Special Services, built a 9-hole course near Ondal. The layout reflected the highest traditions of G.I. ingenuity and Thiel was cited by his command for meritorious service. He received widespread publicity including an article in the Saturday Evening Post.

"I wasn't as fancy as the courses we take as a matter of fact in the United States," Thiel reflected, "but it certainly served its purpose in a place like Ondal. Prior to his discharge, Thiel was stationed at Westover Field, near Springfield, Mass., where he was able to resume his golfing career on a quasi-full time basis. As a member of Westover Field's golf varsity, Thiel teamed with Frank Coltart, an outstanding pro from Baltimore. These two formed the hub of a squad that defeated Mitchell Field, the A. G. Spaulding team of Chicope Falls, Mass., and captured a tournament sponsored by Camp Edwards.

"But it wasn't all rain, tigers, and elephants in India," Thiel reminisced. "I played on a 36-hole British layout in Calcutta that was something to behold. However, it's too far away to consider a return engagement."

High School Cage Champs
Glens Falls, N. Y., April 1 (AP)—Emerson High School of Union City, N. J., holds the eastern states scholastic basketball title. It was Boys Catholic's first loss this season.

Prepares for Banner Season

Walter Thiel, home-town professional at the Twaalfskill Golf Club, tries an early season putt. Thiel resumes his post with Twaalfskill after having been in service 30 months. He will be assisted by Frank Ball, English-born Walker Cup player, who served as interim pro during Thiel's absence.

Haussmann, Zimmerman, Maglie Are Fired by Horace Stoneham for Dealings With Loop

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The wealthy Pasquel brothers of Mexico, who are defying organized baseball in the United States in an effort to put their Mexican League on a long-term basis, today had four more major leaguers in the fold and observers south of the border freely predicted more American players may be signed soon.

The Pasquels, who already had a dozen former big leaguers under contract, made their prize catch Saturday by signing Vernon (Junior) Stephens, star shortstop of the St. Louis Browns and American League home run king last year, for five years.

After announcing the signing of Stephens, Jorge Pasquel, president of the Mexican league, remarked he had "another very big surprise for the boys in the United States."

No sooner had the words reached the ears of the big league club owners than it was disclosed yesterday that three members of the New York Giants, second baseman George Haussmann, first baseman Roy Zimmerman and pitcher Sal Maglie, had accepted offers from the Mexican loop. New York President Horace Stoneham, upon learning the trio had been negotiating with the Mexican circuit, which is not a member of organized baseball, dismissed them from the team.

Will Leave Today
Asserting they will receive twice as much money as they would from the National League club, in addition to bonuses of $5,000 apiece plus $1,000 for expenses, the three players said they planned to leave for Mexico by plane at noon today. They will be distributed among the various clubs, but infielder Mickey Wittek and outfielder Sid Gordon may be idle longer.

Miami, Fla., April 1 (AP)—With the season's opener just 15 days away, four important members of the New York Giants still are on the ailing list. That Aching Finger: A painful middle finger has caused many bowlers to give up the game—for a while, at least.

I know the misery of the aching digit, because I went through it shortly after I took up bowling. With every delivery pain shot through my hand and up through the forearm into the elbow. Finally the finger swelled over the middle joint and forced me to the sidelines for almost a month.

Rest and constant dipping into hot salt water was the simple and only remedy. The swelling receded and gradually full strength returned.

Then what to do about it? How to avoid getting it again? Fortunately Jimmy Smith, then world match champion, was in Milwaukee and told me what to do.

"An injured middle finger is caused by two things," he said. "One is a tight fingerhole. Instead of being released easily, the ball comes out late—with a jerk. The second knuckle is twisted and pulled. Done often enough, it must give out. By all means, the fingerhole should be snug, but NOT tight. That goes for both a two-fingered or three-fingered ball."

The second cause is lofting the ball repeatedly. This puts all the weight of the ball on the middle finger at release, and the finger absorbs all the pressure of the turn given the ball as well."

There is gold in the bowling hills these days, if you can find it. Assuming that a 190-average kegler could hold a "hot hand" over one week-end in May, he might come up with a grand total of $7800 in three sweepstakes in the Metropolitan district. All for the meagre cash outlay of $63.

Bowling sweepstakes has developed into big business and where once the famed Petersen Classic of Chicago was the only worthwhile individual event, today there are a dozen or more sweeps where fame and glory awaits the lucky trundler.

John Crimmins, Detroit's famous All-American, has won more than $8000 in cash prizes a few years ago. There aren't many Crimmins in the game, but the lure of gold and fame is attracting the nation's keggers in steadily mounting legions. Any man who averages around 190 has a chance to win.

A total of $2500 will be on the line in one week-end in New York. Joe Falcato is running a $5000 sweep. Bill Landgraf is paying off $1500 and Heinemann's Recreation $1200. Kingsmen keggers will make their first serious bid en masse in the Landgraf classic.

Around the local wheels: George Flemings, who is "streaking" and Harold Broskie, fully recovered from the Albany expedition, spark-plugged the Major League trundlers with 620 and 613 respectively. "Curly" posted singles of 228 and 214, while Brook's top was 211. Other sparklers: Charlie Gruenewald 225, Irv Alward 237. "Hot Lips" Pete Ferraro, the uptown "Harry James" rolled 230. Ralph Neville wheeled 241 and 805 for Hymes, while Lew Hymes, Georgia man, rolled all 233. Frank "Whatta Ball" Cashara 223. The old Masters, Phil 217, 223 but then only 159 for 599.

Adelaide Gilbert clipped 510 and winsome Betty Boyce 502.

The Rev. Wesley Williams, who could easily rate as one of the city's topnotchers, if he had more time to devote to the game, blasted a 245 and 609 in the Federation loop. Mayhain cracked 222 for Er-tels, while Austin Hitchcock's 236 embellished Fair Street's effort. It was nice to see veteran Wes Holden knock off 627, with a string of 176, 231 and 220. Wes along with Harry Heard, Bill Thiel, Emil Boessneck, Ad Jones and a few others are the remnants of a once-flourishing Old Guard in Y bowling circles. Time certainly has taken its toll.

Scarcest bowling commodity is, of course, the 200 average. Pat McDonough, of the World-Telegram, points out that Johnny Ferraro is one of a select quartet of keggers sporting that mark in New York and vicinity. John is above that mark in the Central Major and Hudson Valley League. There are only three 200-average men in New York proper, Tony Sparano 201 in the Metropolitan Major, Artie Traum 208 in the Metro Forest and Dom Suraci 200 in Brook-

Becker Urges Eviction Of Gambling in Bowling

Hudson Valley Keglers Hear Speaker Ask for Improvements in Sport at Banquet

Calling for bowling proprietors and bowlers themselves to improve the sport and get it out of its present "state of confusion," Judge Daniel Becker of Newburgh highlighted the annual post-season banquet of the Hudson Valley Bowling League at the Chalet in Rosendale Sunday evening. Approximately 150 league members, wives and invited guests attended the banquet.

Members of the Van Kleef bowling team, champions of the 1945-46 circuit, were honored and Captain Freddie Rice was presented with the league trophy by Les Shurtler, secretary-treasurer of the league.

Blasts Gambling Element
Following a turkey dinner, Judge Becker, who is Newburgh's corporation counsel, took the rostrum and presented the assemblage with a few facts concerning the sport of bowling. The guest speaker, however, told his listeners that although the sport is now making great strides, bowling is still in a "state of confusion" and that certain conditions must be improved in order to keep it at its present height.

Lashing out at the present "gambling element" which he said was connected with bowling in some parts of the Hudson Valley, the main speaker urged his listeners to band together and force the eviction of this undesirable part of bowling. Judge Becker gave one example in past years where bowling was suspended due to the gambling element and said that it was possible again, and in this district, unless immediate steps are taken to throw it out.

Asks for Cooperation
The honored guest also urged bowling alley proprietors to aid in the improvement of bowling by making necessary improvements in their own establishments. He said, "we must keep bowling on the level where it should be" and alley owners could help out if they would take stock and correct the present handicaps.

In his plea for combined work to make bowling the finest sport ever, Judge Becker also called upon the individual bowler to do his part in the improvement of the sport. He urged bowlers to return to the fundamental element of sportsmanship in bowling and declared that players shouldn't forget that it is still a game. Judge Becker also voiced hope that the individual bowler would improve his etiquette in the sport.

Closing his address, Judge Becker listed two ways in which bowling could be improved. He said that the sport should be returned to sportsmanship and thus petty differences on the alleys would be eliminated. The speaker also urged that local bowling associations seek to make sure that all bowling regulations are met and adhered to in the coming years.

Mayor Is Toastmaster
Addison Jones, president of the Hudson Valley Bowling League, opened last night's program and immediately turned over the festivities to Mayor William F. Edmuth who acted as toastmaster for the remainder of the evening. Mayor Edmuth called upon Robert J. Stone, sports editor of the Poughkeepsie News Yorker and Charlie Tiano for brief speeches.

Following Judge Becker's speech, Les Shurtler, secretary-treasurer of the league, presented the various awards to bowlers of the Hudson Valley League. Vernon Freese, secretary of the Kingston Bowling Association, also appeared on the program and presented the A.B.C. medal to Johnny Ferraro for his high individual game of 279.

The awards are as follows:
Kingston Van Kleef, $185.50; Middle-town Elks, $120.50; Poughkeepsie, $99.50; Monticello, $81.33; Walden, $81.33; Beacon, $81.33; Kingston Trailways, $80; Kingston Jones, $58.50; Liberty Bowl-O-Drome, $48; Newburgh Turks, $40.50; Nanapanoch Shamleys, $34.50; and the Ellenville Waysides, $25.50.

Secretary Shurtler also made the following individual awards: Kingston Trailways, $10 for high team game of 1090; Kingston Trailways, $10 for high team game of 3117; Johnny Ferraro, $5 for high individual game of 279; Johnny Ferraro, $8 for high individual game of 767; Johnny Ferraro, $20 for high individual average of 203.05; Johnny Sangi, $15 for second high average of 189.91; Pete Ferraro, $10 for third high average of 187.57; and Charlie Gruenewald, $3 for fourth high average of 186.67.

The committee on arrangements for the banquet last evening was comprised of Addison Jones, president; John MacLellan, Gil Sampson and George Robinson.

Sea Gypsy Sets New Yacht Record

Havana, Cuba, April 1 (AP)—The Sea Gypsy, a 78-foot schooner owned by C. R. Vose and sailed by G. E. Brooks, both of New York, reached Havana just before midnight to establish a new record for the 284-mile yacht race from St. Petersburg, Fla.

The graceful vessel, driven by fresh westerly winds, arrived here at 11:50:25 p. m. last night to become the first of the 21 yachts in the event to cross the finish line. Only scratch yacht in the race, she was timed in 35 hours and 50 minutes to beat the old mark of 37 hours and 16 minutes set by Robert Johnson's Good News in 1940 when the sailing classic last was held.

The second boat to finish was another schooner, the Jacinta, a 76-foot craft owned and sailed by Albert Veeder of Chicago. She arrived in port at 1:02:14 a. m. today. With a handicap of 1:54:38, she held the lead over the Sea Gypsy on the basis of the corrected times.

The third boat to finish was Harry J. Burgau's 57-foot schooner Bellatrix of City Island (N.Y.) Yacht Club, which arrived at 3:08:30 a. m.

U.N.O. to Occupy Sperry Factory in Long Island Area

Security Council Expected to Move From Hunter College to Nassau County Lake

Rockville Centre, N. Y., April 1 (AP)—The Nassau Daily Review-Star said today the United Nations Security Council would move its headquarters from Hunter College to the Sperry Gyroscope plant at Lake Success in Long Island's Nassau county.

The change will be made as quickly as possible, the paper quoted authoritative sources as saying.

The United Nations has been meeting at Hunter College where its agreement with the city expires May 15. It was reported that city and U.N.O. officials were in conference in New York city today.

The United Nations information office issued the following statement:

"Pending expiration of the Hunter College lease, the secretary-general is exploring all available possibilities. Thus far no decision has been reached regarding staying or leaving Hunter College."

A spokesman added that if a change should be made, the Sperry site would be one of those considered.

The daily Review-Star represented city officials as being at odds with U.N. representatives over the entire setup and desiring to return the Hunter buildings to the college, which has protested their continued use by the world organization.

No Word on Changes

Dr. Stoyan Gavrilovic, chairman of the U. N. Permanent Site Committee, said he had no word on changing the interim site, but that the Sperry layout was contained in his committee's original report on temporary sites.

In commenting on reports that the Nassau site also might be made the permanent home of the United Nations, he said: "That would require action by the general assembly, and to me would appear unlikely. The assembly has approved the Westchester-Fairfield area with its 1,000 square miles for the permanent home. All that remains now is for the committee to select the actual site, within these defined boundaries."

United Nations officials have said it would require from three to five years to prepare a permanent home. Meanwhile, there has been no definite announcement as to the "permanent" interim site. In Nassau county, the U.N. would utilize many of the larger estates along the north shore of the island.

Court Will Rule

Washington, April 1 (AP)—The Supreme Court today agreed to rule whether a veteran has so-called "super seniority" rights to his prewar job. The federal Court of Appeals in New York city decided the Selective Service Act does not give the veteran absolute job assurance over other workers who have greater length of service. The New York court said Congress intended that a veteran was to be assured of his job for a year, but that the place to which he was restored was to be subject to the same conditions as those affecting the old job.

Radio 'Hams' Get Closer to Normalcy

New Frequency Bands Are Announced Today

By CARL F. BISSELL

West Hartford, Conn., April 1 (AP)—The nation's radio amateur operators ("hams") are closer today to normal peacetime operation.

With the approval of Army, Navy and Coast Guard communications officials, the government returned some 30,000 members of the American Radio Relay League at 3 a. m. (E.S.T.) what one league official termed the "first really reliable channels" since the end of the war.

Frequencies available to the postwar "ham" previously, said League Assistant Secretary John Hinton, were "usable only occasionally for communication, either for long distance work with other countries or with the brother enthusiasts next door."

"The newly opened band provides reliable communications over distances up to 500 miles in daytime and up to 3,000 miles at night."

Handy explained that the band range (3,700 to 4,000 kilocycles) was still only "a portion" of the hams' normal 80-meter band. He said, however:

"We can now more fully carry out our plans for the A.R.R.L. emergency corps to fulfill amateur radio's traditional responsibility for emergency communication in time of disaster. We have many activities scheduled for the corps."

He listed among these a nationwide field test of portable and mobile self-powered equipment. "Then too," he added, "we are now able to re-establish our state and national relay networks through which many thousands of amateurs have become skilled in specialized operating and message-handling procedures—training which proved invaluable during their military service."

The A.R.R.L., said Handy, expects that within the next five years there will be more than 250,000 licensed amateur operators.

There are now 60,000 amateur licensees, he said, "but many of them are still in service. Other thousands of returning American soldiers and sailors, trained in communications during wartime, plan to keep up their new-found interest in radio by obtaining licenses and getting on the air privately from their home."

Senators, Cards Lead Grapefruit League Standings

New York, April 1 (AP)—Washington's Senators and the St. Louis Cardinals led their divisions of the Grapefruit League today as the teams swung into the final two weeks of spring training for the regular major league campaign April 16.

Topping all National League clubs, the Cardinals swing won four of six games last week to bring their record to 13 and nine for a .591 percentage, three points higher than the New York Giants.

The Senators, splitting four games during the week, held onto first place among American League teams with 13 wins and seven losses for a .650 average. The New York Yankees were second with 27 won, 18 lost for .600.

It looks like leather and is cleaned with soap and water. Perforations are needed for ventilation.

Kennedy Denounces Reds' Attitude at American Legion Dinner

State Commander Hits Way Vets Are Treated

Predicts 3rd War With Warning That U. S. Be Prepared

Russia's U.N.O. Boycott Presages Trouble in Affairs of World That Mean Big Upheaval

In a two-fold attack on Russia's antagonistic attitude in the present world's stride towards a lasting peace, and on the political bungling of veteran's affairs in Washington, State Department Commander Miles D. Kennedy called for a concerted drive on the part of all American citizens to urge their representatives in Washington for a quick passage of the universal military training bill.

Commander Kennedy was guest speaker at the Ulster County American Legion dinner given in his honor at the Governor Clinton Hotel Saturday evening with 250 Legion members and guests present.

Commander Kennedy, in a dynamic address before the huge gathering, pulled no punches in his denunciation of Russia's policy towards America and the rest of the world. "It's time we stopped kidding ourselves about Russia," Commander Kennedy declared. "Throughout the past world conflict, the speaker added, 'Russia had her own way with everything. Following peace talks she went away with everything. Our state department, on the other hand, came away with empty hands. If we don't watch out in the future, we'll be lucky to come away with empty hands.'

Another War Looms
Charging that Russia's recent boycott of the U.N.O. parley in New York city was a certain threat to world peace, Commander Kennedy told his audience that although he hoped that the organization's talks would result in a lasting peace, he felt that there was a strong 50-50 chance that the U.N.O. talks would be a failure. "Russia's anti-U.N.O. feeling will continue," Commander Kennedy stated, "and we have no assurance that the feeling will be altered in the days to come."

Capturing the attention of every person in his audience, the Legion official predicted that there will be a third world war and that it would hit this nation without warning. He declared that Russia will continue to make advances for personal gains throughout the world and the only way in which to stop her is another world conflict.

Quotes Eisenhower
Citing General Dwight D. Eisenhower's talk before the National Legion Convention in Chicago last year, Commander Kennedy warned his listeners that the next war would come overnight. "It will be much worse than the sneak attack on Pearl Harbor," he declared.

"For this reason," he said, "we in America must be sure we're not caught napping as we were in 1918 and in 1941." The speaker went on to add that our lessons before should have taught us about disarmament. Commander Kennedy told his audience, "we must continue to make this country of ours so strong that no other nation will ever dare to attack it. If we do this," he continued, "a lasting peace may be ours, but if we shirk our duties again as we did before, the same world conflict will be with us again as it was in 1941 when we entered the war unprepared."

Write to Lawmakers
Coming out for quick passage of either the Legion universal military training bill or some like measure, the state commander urged his listeners to write immediately to Senators Mead and Wagner and Congressman LeFevre. "It's up to all of us to tell our representatives what we want. If we don't there is a good possibility that the measure will never pass," Commander Kennedy stressed the fact that although the Legion has endorsed its own universal training bill, its provisions only call for a four months basic training course in that year of training. "The rest," he said, "would be used by schooling and other non-military projects. He warned, however, that either the Legion bill or some other measure must be put into law in order to keep America strong and to keep foreign nations abreast of the fact that America means business.

Situation Is Dangerous
Returning to his latest attack on Russia's attitude towards the United States, Commander Kennedy announced that just recently he had received information from the F.B.I. in Washington calling to his attention the strong feeling of pro-Communist leanings in America and that such foreign elements were already working as an underground in the nation. He also declared that similar facts from Washington informed him of pro-Red feelings in business, industry and fraternal organizations. The speaker, in view of these warnings, gave advice to all local Legion posts to be on the alert for such dangerous actions not only in their own groups but in requests for new charters. "We must be particularly careful of new charters when we know nothing about the makeup of those organizations," Commander Kennedy stated.

Hits Surplus Property Board
Earlier in his address, Commander Kennedy voiced complete dissatisfaction with the way veteran's affairs are being handled in Washington and during his speech named the War Surplus Board as being strictly inadequate in dealing with the veterans of World War 2. "It seems," he said, "we're going to improve this situation," he added, "to get in there and kick them all out of office—whether they're Democrats or Republicans." The Legion is out to get every benefit it possibly can for the veterans of the past war, the speaker continued, and voiced determination that the organization would continue to fight for the complete rights of every G.I.

Commander Kennedy in closing his speech called upon the Legion to get more and more members into the organization so that it can be one of America's great assets in keeping the nation strong. He told his listeners that at the present time the membership of the Legion in New York state was nearing the 200,000 mark.

Other Speakers
Conrad J. Heiselman, former mayor of Kingston, was toastmaster at the Legion dinner and introduced the other speakers throughout the evening. Edward Lingel, Third District commander; Gordon F. Irvine, county commander; Mrs. Harold Burdett, state president of the Legion Auxiliary; Mrs. Ida Ashby, state secretary and treasurer of the Auxiliary; Mrs. Stanley Matthews, Third District chairman; and Mrs. Ernest Jansen, Ulster county chairman of the Legion Auxiliary.

During the evening Paul Zucca and Clarence Brown led the singing of the legion song with Mrs. Vere Nessel accompanying. Arrangements for the successful dinner were headed by Thomas Bohan, vice commander of the Ulster County American Legion, and his committee.

Upper left, State Commissioner Miles D. Kennedy, sits at speakers' table with former Mayor Conrad J. Heiselman, who has been nominated by Kingston Post, 150, American Legion, for Department Commander; Mrs. Harold Burdett, State President of the Legion Auxiliary, and Edward Lingel, Third District Commander.

Other photos by The Freeman photographer show those who took part in the program or Legionnaires and friends who enjoyed the social event and heard the talks given by the various speakers. Thomas Bohan was chairman for the party.

Russia's Payment Shows Cooperation

He termed the dues-payment announcement "great news." There is still the fact that Moscow and Tehran have not replied yet to the council's request of last Friday for clarification of the Iranian occupation matter. The deadline is Wednesday.

The council wants to know, in effect, whether the Russian troops were a tool to pry out oil concessions, or stated more formally, is Russia's fulfillment of her announced intention to remove these troops dependent on negotiations between Iran and Russia?

Persons familiar with the views of Secretary of State James C. Byrnes and Sir Alexander Cadogan of Great Britain said the two leaders in the Russian-opposed move to bring the question of Iran before the Security Council are satisfied their stand is sound.

They were said to feel that "the right thing has been done" and that they should pursue the course they have taken. Byrnes argued especially in the council that to ignore Iran now might cost the United Nations the confidence of other small powers.

Three of these small nations are the only ones beside Russia to have paid in full their share of the United Nations' working capital. They are Belgium with $332,750; The Netherlands with $357,000; and Norway with $169,000.

The United States was assessed $613,000 of which it has paid $500,000. Britain has paid $300,000 of her $362,750 assessment.

In the absence of any official statement as to Russia's intention of complying with the request for more information on Iran, even the date of her funds-payment announcement came in for scrutiny. A cable to Secretary General Lie from Andrei Vishinsky, deputy minister of foreign affairs, said the transfer was made March 31. It was two days earlier that the council initiated its inquiry on Iran.

Persons coupling these dates speculated that Russia was hardly having paid up at this time if the council's course on the Iranian question had offended her. Most were inclined to wait for official news, however.

Gromyko Gives No Answer
Gromyko as late as last night would not answer reporters' questions as to whether he would attend the Wednesday meeting which will end the week-end council recess. He said without elaboration that he had spoken with Lie "a couple of days ago."

Byrnes is said to have definite feeling that the council request for information affords Russia a graceful way out of its boycott policy on Iranian discussions in the council now.

The secretary of state spent the week-end in Washington, working on department matters. Recent dispatches from Moscow have said the Russians find it difficult to understand why the United States is so concerned about Soviet troops in Iran when it maintains troops in China, Iceland and elsewhere. Soviet observers said the United States and Britain seemed to be violating the principle of "equality among nations."

American officials here point out that U. S. troops in foreign lands are there in accordance with treaties and in no case has the country asked that they be removed.

Iran, on the other hand, has appealed for prompt removal of Russian troops. Her ambassador, Hussein Ala, has stated formally that "international peace and security are threatened."

April Makes Debut In Chilly Setting

Freezing temperatures early this morning were the weatherman's contribution of an April Fool's Day joke to Kingston residents, with the official city thermometer recording as low as 29 degrees during early hours today.

Skies formed during the night, and throughout the morning the sky was dark and overcast. The sudden change in the weather from the mid-summer temperatures that prevailed last week in Kingston started on Saturday when the official thermometer readings ranged from 39 to 63 degrees.

Sunday much colder weather enveloped the city with the thermometer ranging from a low of 31 degrees to a high of 47 degrees during the afternoon.

According to the readings of the official thermometer March was ushered in with temperatures ranging from 15 to 43 degrees, but as the month advanced Kingston was given a preview of summer with temperatures as high as 83 degrees being recorded on a shade last Wednesday, while the following day the mercury hit a high of 82 degrees in the shade.

The highest temperature in March in the city was 83 degrees while the lowest point reached was 15 degrees.

During the month there was a total rainfall of 1.16 inches in the city.

General Electric Employment Plan

Although Mr. Sauer, president of the Saugerties Chamber of Commerce, said he hoped the reports were not true, he made no effort to hide his disappointment. "I've been asked to secure housing for some of the G.E. officials and employees," he said, "but I don't have the exact number. Just where we are going to house them is a problem that will have to be solved in the next few days."

Further Clarification Awaited
Mr. Sauer expressed the hope that further negotiations with the G.E. officials might clarify the situation and result in a change of plans whereby the emphasis would be placed on male labor.

"Up to the moment everyone is pretty much in the dark on just what G.E. plans to do here. We don't know what type of appliances will be manufactured and we won't be able to say anything definite until G.E. takes over and makes known its plans," he said.

Despite the disappointment and consternation created by the G.E. announcement seeking female help, the fact remains that until further

Moore Commission Aid Plan Signed

The Moore Commission plan of per capita state aid to localities before Governor Dewey's signature today.

The program, passed by the 1945 Republican-controlled Legislature over sharp Democratic opposition, was signed by the governor Saturday. It substituted for the old system of shared taxes, a method by which the state grants fixed annual sums to localities on a population basis.

Cities will get $6.75 per person, towns $3.55 and villages $3.00 instead of the former fluctuation shares of several state taxes.

Senate leaders hope to complete work on the measure by midweek, after deciding on a new minimum wage level. The bill provides for raising the current floor of 40 cents to 65 and eventually to 75 cents.

Should Mr. Truman carry out his threat to veto the whole bill because of the parity agreement, a number of farm state senators have said they will simply tack the parity issue on the price control extension measure when it reaches them. They consider the O.P.A. extender virtually veto-proof.

Japanese Women Find Voting Idea Unusual, Strange

By ROY ROBERTS
Tokyo, April 1 (AP)—"May I go to the polls with my baby on my back?"

That's a question Japanese women repeatedly ask of Wac Lt. Ethel Weed, Cleveland, Ohio, who has been telling them about exercising their new franchise at the April 10 elections.

Other questions frequently put to Lieutenant Weed, head of the women's subsection of the Civil Information and Education Section of Allied headquarters, include:

What happens in America when the man of a family votes one way and the woman another?

How do girls in the United States learn about politics?

What happens to the families of women elected to Congress?

What do men think about women who become active in politics?

Lieutenant Weed said the kl-moned Japanese women are emerging from their homes in increasing numbers to attend meetings on suffrage and politics.

At one place, the women waited two and a half hours to hear Lieutenant Weed talk on women's participation in politics.

"They had so many questions it was practically impossible to bring the meeting to a close," she related. "There was no light in the building and it became so dark I couldn't see the audience and the women couldn't see me, but they still went on asking questions."

Japanese women are expressing themselves more and more at the meetings. In particular they have something to say on the subject of equal wages for equal work. Women of all types offer opinions on the nation's food problems.

Lieutenant Weed cited a report of Kyodo News Agency that 83 women are running for The Diet, among them teachers, housewives, writers, farm women, a doctor, a poet, a painter, two Buddhist nuns, midwives, and social workers. She said the youngest is 26; the oldest 66. Thirty-two are college graduates.

Japanese women dislike organization "since it still means to them the kind of organization they knew during the war years, when everything was organized from the top down," the Wac officer said. "But they finally are becoming conscious that by organizing together they can influence the government."

She noted that a group of fishermen presented a petition regarding food rationing to Allied headquarters, another called on the welfare ministry to demand higher wages, and a group of women miners are presenting a petition to the welfare ministry.

EX-SERVICEMEN'S CLOTHES PROBLEM

The mother of a bridegroom-to-be writes: "My son is just back from several years' service in the army overseas. He has outgrown the clothes that I packed away when he left and the prospects for getting what he knows he should have for his wedding are indeed slim. His bride is planning a bridal dress and veil and is having six bridesmaids in typical bridesmaid dresses. But my son can not get a dark blue suit in time for the wedding and has only his tan uniform or a brown with belted back. The other men in the wedding will still be in uniform. What is your suggestion?"

If permitted to do so, he too should wear his uniform which explains itself, and cannot possibly look wrong. Brown civilian clothes such as you describe would be a really unsuitable choice.

Reason for Joining Bridegroom's Church

Dear Mrs. Post: Would it be wrong for me to join my future husband's church before we are married? I have been going to his church—in fact, my own parents go there often because they like the minister—and it would be a very much more beautiful church in which to plan a wedding.

Answer: Of course, you may join the church, and ask the clergyman of your choice to perform your marriage service. No one could possibly criticize you for not waiting until later for a change you intend to make.

They Go Out of the Front Door!

Dear Mrs. Post: Perhaps it sounds unsuitable, but I am wearing a tailored suit at my wedding, which will be attended only by intimate friends and a few relatives but which will be followed by a large reception. Naturally, I am wearing this same suit away. The question comes of how, gracefully, to leave the reception when there is no necessity for leaving to dress again.

Answer: I don't see that there is any question. Instead of going upstairs alone to dress, you and your husband go out of the front door together!

A Few—Certainly

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it correct to put crackers in oyster soup?

Answer: Yes, but not a whole fistful at a time.

For Mrs. Post's booklet 501, "The Etiquette of Wedding," send 10 cents in coin and a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope to her in care of Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station C, New York 19, N. Y.

Governor Signs Child Care Bill

Dewey Also Approves Act to Give Seven Million Supplemental Cash

Albany, N. Y., April 1 (AP)—A $1,000,000 program of state aid for local child care projects was signed today by Governor Dewey.

The governor also approved a $7,000,000 supplemental budget bill, which includes about $2,000,000 to launch his expanded public health program, and $200,000 for the Ives Agricultural Commission—part of which will be used in its study this year of the "milk spread."

Other bills signed appropriate $184,350 for County Farm and Home Bureaus and 4-H Clubs; $200,000 for additional emergency compensation to officers and employees of the Judiciary; $150,000 for such pay to officers and employees of the Legislature; $100,000 to Cornell University and the State Department of Agriculture and Markets for research to eliminate the golden nematode disease of potatoes.

Also signed were bills creating a North Hempstead housing authority, permitting the state to invest in the Central New York Regional Market Authority, requiring no license for taking fish from Hudson river south of the Mid-Hudson bridge at Poughkeepsie, and directing sheriffs to appoint matrons in county jails to take sole charge of female prisoners.

The child care bill, carrying a $1,000,000 appropriation from the supplemental budget, provides for the continuation under the State Youth Commission of the program formerly supervised by the State War Council.

Under the plan, care is given to children of working mothers and of members of the armed forces or maritime service whose mothers are unable to care for them.

"The continuance of the program for child care centers," Dewey said, "is justified by the conditions which arose out of the war and which have not completely subsided."

The governor said that the farm organization aid measure "will assist substantially in giving more and more of our farm people opportunities for better living and better production."

Encourages Boys' Clubs

Albany, N. Y., April 1 (AP)—This is Boys' Club Week in New York state and Governor Dewey says such organization should be "encouraged to the greatest extent possible." The clubs, the governor said in proclaiming the event, "are doing much to combat juvenile delinquency" and are proving that their 250,000 members in New York state "can live, work and play together in peace and harmony, regardless of creed or nationality."

Van Acker, a Socialist, retains, in addition to the premiership, the post of minister of fuel. He has turned over once again to Spaak, who is president of the United Nations, the portfolio of minister of foreign affairs.

LADY'S STOMACH WAS LIKE A GAS FACTORY; MEALS TURNED TO GAS

One lady said recently that her stomach used to be like a "gas factory." That is, when she ate a meal it seemed to turn right into gas. She was always bloated, had awful stomach gas pains, daily headaches and constant irregular bowel action. Now, however, this lady says she is FREE OF STOMACH GAS and she says the change is due to taking ERB-HELP. Her meals agree with her. No gas or bloating after eating. Headaches and constipation are gone. "Oh, what relief!" states this lady. "Why don't other gas and constipation sufferers get ERB-HELP?"

ERB-HELP contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get ERB-HELP. Sold by All Drug Stores here in Kingston.

No Casualties Reported In Nazi Move Breakup

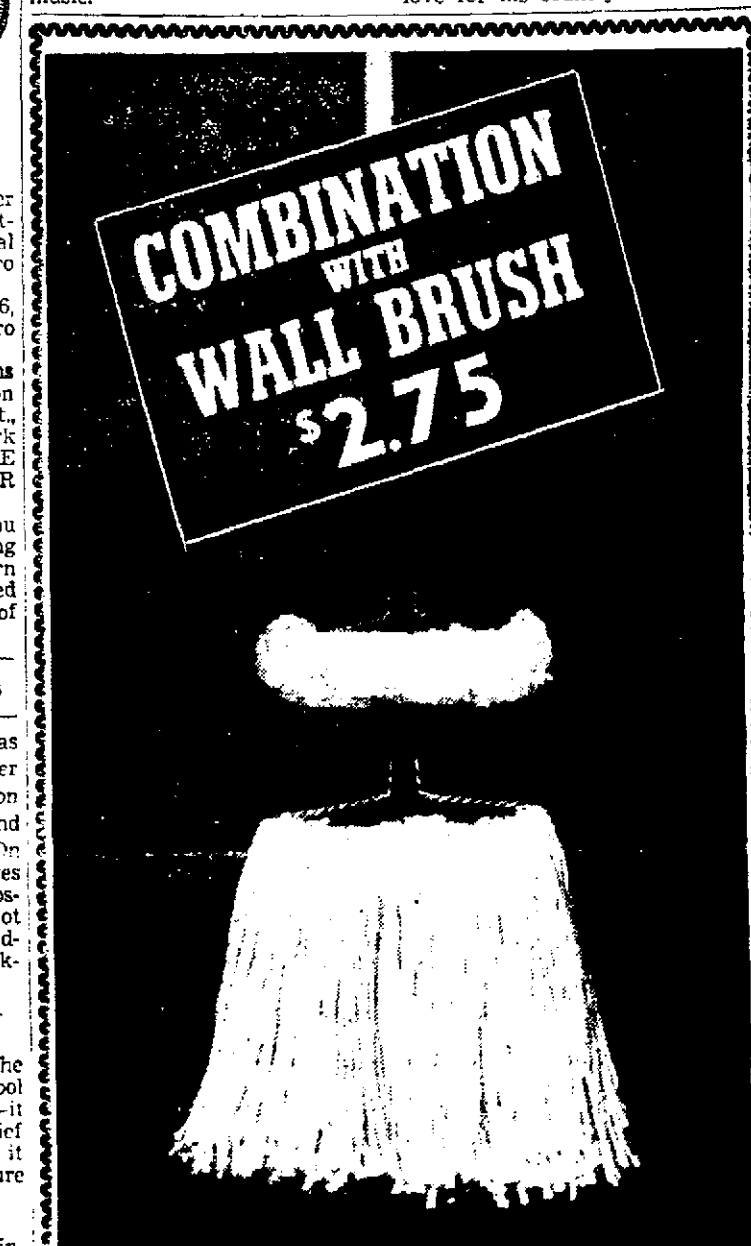

Frankfurt, Germany, April 1 (AP)—No casualties have been reported by the 7,000 Allied combat troops and counterespionage agents who smashed a powerful underground movement by rounding up about 1,000 German suspects in raids over the weekend.

Gunfire was reported to have broken out in several of the 200 towns raided in western Germany and Austria, but American intelligence officers said they had received no word of any casualties.

Intelligence officers still declined to give details of the capture last December of Arthur Axmann, 32, one-armed former Nazi Youth Fuchrer, who has been identified as the leader of the movement aimed at re-establishing Nazism.

Axmann, who is being questioned at an American internment camp, fought in the battle of Berlin. Escaping on foot from the German capital, he went to Bavaria, where he had instructed all leaders of the Hitler Youth Movement and the German Girls Movement to organize werewolf sabotage.

Troldhaugen, the villa where Edward Grieg died in 1907, is venerated as the shrine of Norwegian music.

Walt Thiel Prepares for Big Year at Twaalfskill Golf Club Greens

Ex-G.I. Is Back After Service in Foreign Theatre

Won Army Praise for His Great Work in Laying Out Golf Course in Ondal, India

Walt Thiel, a home-grown pro who never lost his touch during 30 months of service for Uncle Sam, will resume his post with the Twaalfskill Golf Club this season.

Assisting Thiel will be Frank Ball, former Walker Cup competitor of the Bobby Jones era, who served as interim pro, while Thiel was in service.

The combination of Thiel and Ball assures Twaalfskill members of one of the most competent staffs in the Hudson Valley region. Ball will be available on part-time status, while Thiel will be at the course daily.

To Open May 1
Thiel was preparing the course for the official May 1 opening when a Freeman reporter visited him at the colorful downtown course.

The first impression you get of Twaalfskill is that here is a course that places a heavy premium on long, straight drives down the fairway. Its interesting zig-zag cross-over of holes will test the mettle of any golfer. The duffer must beware, especially in these days of golf ball shortages.

A 5,824-yard course over the 18-hole route, Twaalfskill is set up for a par 70. No official records are available, but the unofficial all-time low of 64 is credited to Harry Byrnes, a local sharpshooter. Several prominent "name" golfers have appeared at Twaalfskill at one time or another without threatening that figure.

The week-end's wintry blasts reduced to a minimum the number of early birds, but Thiel anticipates experts and duffers in large numbers before the official opening on May 1.

Two new greens, on holes No. 2 and 8 will greet Twaalfskill players this season. A "horseshoe" effect on the second hole will make it one of the prettiest in the region. No. 8 has been completely renovated, filled in and graded off. Several new tees have been erected at various points in the course.

The clubhouse proper is about to be subjected to extensive alterations and improvements. The interior will be painted and decorated, while a cafeteria will operate full-time. The name of the cafeteria hostesses will be announced in conjunction with the first dinner-dance tentatively scheduled for May 4.

Came Up From Rank
Twaalfskill's pro—Walt Thiel—is a home-town product in the strictest sense of the word. Like the nationally famous bowlers who achieve fame, Thiel started as a caddy when he was 10 years old. Prior to his appointment as full-fledged pro in 1936, he had assisted in course maintenance at Twaalfskill.

A committee of Thiel's "friends and neighbors" took up their option on his services on April 13, 1942 and after the usual induction ceremonies he was whisked to Mott, Georgia. Six months later, Thiel was en route to India with the 89th Service Squadron to a town known as Ondal, approximately 150 miles from the teeming millions of Calcutta. He returned to the United States to receive his "ruptured duck" on September 22, 1945.

Widespread Publicity
It is now a well-known story how Thiel, working for Special Services, built a 9-hole course near Ondal. The layout reflected the highest traditions of G.I. ingenuity and Thiel was cited by his command for meritorious service. He received widespread publicity including an article in the Saturday Evening Post.

"It wasn't as fancy as the courses we take as a matter of fact in the United States," Thiel reflected, "but it certainly served its purpose in a place like Ondal. Prior to his discharge, Thiel was stationed at Westover Field, Springfield, Mass., where he was able to resume his golfing career on a quasi-full time basis. As a member of Westover Field's golf varsity, Thiel teamed with Frank Coltart, an outstanding pro from Baltimore. These two formed the hub of a squad that defeated Mitchell Field, the A. G. Spaulding team of Chicopee Falls, Mass., and captured a tournament sponsored by Camp Edwards.

"But it wasn't all rain, tigers, and elephants in India," Thiel reminisced. "I played on a 36-hole British layout in Calcutta that was something to behold. However, it's too far away to consider a return engagement."

High School Cage Champions
Glens Falls, N. Y., April 1 (AP)—Emerson High School of Union City, N. J., holds the eastern states scholastic basketball title. A fighting Emerson cage squad grabbed honors in the 24th annual tournament by edging Boys Catholic High of Trenton, N. J., 56-55, in an overtime clash Saturday night. It was Boys Catholic's first loss this season.

Hausmann, Zimmerman, Maglie Are Fired by Horace Stoneham for Dealings With Loop

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The wealthy Pasquel brothers of Mexico, who are defying organized baseball in the United States in an effort to put their Mexican League on a big-time basis, today had four more major leaguers in the fold and observers south of the border freely predicted more American players may be signed soon.

The Pasquels, who already had a dozen former big leaguers under contract, made their prize catch Saturday by signing Vernon (Junior) Stephens, star shortstop of the St. Louis Browns and American League home run king last year, for five years.

After announcing the signing of Stephens, Jorge Pasquel, president of the Mexican loop, remarked he had "another very big surprise for the boys in the United States."

No sooner had the words reached the ears of the big league club owners than it was disclosed yesterday that three members of the New York Giants, second baseman George Hausmann, first baseman Roy Zimmerman and pitcher Sal Maglie, had accepted offers from the Mexican loop. New York President Horace Stoneham, upon learning the trio had been negotiating with the Mexican circuit, which is not a member of organized baseball, dismissed them from the team.

Will Leave Today
Asserting they will receive twice as much money as they would from the National League club, in addition to bonuses of $5,000 apiece plus $1,000 for expenses, the three players said they planned to leave for Mexico by plane at noon today. They will be distributed among the various clubs, as had been done with the other major league players.

The eight-team Mexican League now has a limit of eight foreign players to each club but that figure is expected to be raised. Don Jorge last month offered three-year contracts of $360,000 to Hank Greenberg of Detroit and Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox, and a five-year contract of half a million dollars to Bobby Feller of Cleveland. These offers were refused, but Pasquel says he is confident of landing more major leaguers "within the next two weeks."

With his four brothers, Jorge virtually runs "El Beisbol" in Mexico. They are the chief backers of the Mexican circuit with a banking machine and account for some $80,000,000.

"That does not include the $50,000,000 the directors of our eight club league have combined to put the Mexican League on an equal footing with that of the U. S.," said Jorge recently.

Just as the admitted owner of the Vera Cruz club and is reported to own clubs in Mexico City and Puebla. He is also president of the league and his brother Bernardo is vice-president.

Just what action U. S. Baseball Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler will take was not known. Only last month, the former Kentucky Senator issued a directive to all organized baseball contract jumpers to return to their teams by opening day or be banished for at least five years.

Stephens Not Interested
In face of this edict, Stephens yesterday maintained the right of "a player to go anywhere he gets the best offer," adding that he was not interested in "what they are saying in St. Louis."

His remarks came during a game before 20,000 at Vera Cruz. Stephens won the game with a ninth inning single, after fielding eight chances flawlessly and starting two double plays at short.

Stephens declined to reveal his salary, but Jorge Pasquel said he is not getting less than what he wanted from the St. Louis club. Stephens had been holding out for $17,500 after being offered $13,000. Besides guaranteeing his salary, the league reportedly pays his income tax and living expenses.

In The Pocket

with CHARLIE TIANO

There is gold in the bowling hills these days, if you can find it. Assuming that a 190-average kegler could hold a "hot hand" over one week-end in May, he might come up with a grand total of $7800 in three sweepstakes in the Metropolitan district. All for the meagre cash outlay of $63.

Bowling sweepstakes has developed into big business and where once the famed Petersen Classic of Chicago was the only worthwhile individual event, today there are a dozen or more sweeps where fame and glory awaits the lucky trundler.

John Crimmins, Detroit's famous All-American, picked up more than $8000 in cash prizes a few years ago. There aren't many Crimmins in the game, but the lure of gold and fame is attracting the nation's keggers in steadily mounting legions. Any man who averages around 190 has a chance to win.

A total of $7800 will be on the line in one week-end in New York. Joe Falcara is running a $3000 sweep. Bill Lanigra is paying off $1500. Kingsman's Revue is $1200. Kingsman's Revue will make their first serious bid en masse in the Land-grass classic.

Around the local wheels: George Flemings, who is "sneaking" and Harold Broskie, fully recovered from the Albany expedition, spark-plugged the Major League trundlers with 620 and 613 respectively. "Curly" posted singles of 228 and 214, while Broskie's top was 214.

Other sparklers: Charlie Grunewald 225, Irv Alward 237, "Hot Lips" Pete Ferraro, the uptown "Harry James" rolled 230. Ralph Neville wheeled 241 and 805 for Hymes, while Lew Hymes, Georgian and all, 233. Frank "Whatta ball" Cashara 223. The old Masters, Phil 217, 223 but then only 159 for 599.

Scarcest bowling commodity is, of course, the 200 average. Pat McDonough, of the World Telegram, points out that Johnny Ferraro is one of a select quartet of keggers sporting that mark in New York and vicinity. John is above that mark in the Central Major and Hudson Valley League. There are only three 200-average men in New York proper, Tony Sparano 201 in the Metropolitan Major, Art Traum 208 in the Metro Force and Dom Suraci 200 in Brook-lin.

Packed House Expected For Bouts on Thursday

Reserved Seats for First Fistic Show in Five Years at Auditorium Are Selling Fast

Only three days remain before Kingston boxing fans are favored with their first fistic show in five years at the Municipal Auditorium, where the ring sport once flourished, and is expected to make a successful comeback under the direction of Bill Singer.

Singer, who acted as a New York State Athletic Commission referee for a decade or so, is the director of bouts for Brian Britz, which has the Adirondack District A.A.U. sanction for next Thursday's carnival of fistcuffs and a series of shows to follow.

Show of Champions
The card of scraps arranged for April 4 sparkles with the names of champions who won their laurels in the recent Golden Gloves tournament, held in upper New York state.

"I signed every champion I could," Singer told a real thrilling show on Thursday night when the boys start tossing leather at the auditorium.

Indications are that there will be a packed house for the revival of boxing. Ringside seat reservations are being received at a rate which puts Singer in the class with Mike Jacobs as one of Estima's bosses who arranges magnetic attractions that draw in record crowds.

Here is the lineup of bouts on the card scheduled for 27 rounds

Becker Urges Eviction of Gambling in Bowling

Hudson Valley Keglers Hear Speaker Ask for Improvements in Sport at Banquet

Calling for bowling proprietors and bowlers themselves to improve the sport and get it out of its present "state of confusion," Judge Daniel Becker of Newburgh highlighted the annual post-season banquet of the Hudson Valley Bowling League at the Chalet in Rosendale, Sunday evening. Approximately 150 league keglers and invited guests attended the banquet.

Members of the Van Kleek bowling team, champions of the 1945-46 circuit, were honored and Captain Freddie Rice was presented with the league trophy by Los Shurtler, secretary-treasurer of the league.

Blasts Gambling Element
Following a turkey dinner, Judge Becker, who is Newburgh's corporation counsel, took the rostrum and presented the assembly with a few facts concerning the great sport of bowling. The guest speaker, however, told his listeners that although the sport is now making great strides, bowling is making a "state of confusion" and that certain conditions must be improved in order to keep it at its present height.

Lashing out at the present "gambling element" which he said is connected with bowling in some parts of the Hudson Valley, the main speaker urged his listeners to band together and force the eviction of this undesirable part of bowling. Judge Becker gave one example in past years where bowling was suspended due to the gambling element and said that it was possible again, and in this district, unless immediate steps are taken to throw it out.

Asks for Cooperation
The honored guest also urged bowling alley proprietors to aid in the improvement of bowling by making necessary improvements in their own establishments. He said "we must keep bowling on the level where it should be" and that owners could help out if they would take stock and correct the present handicaps.

In his plea for combined work to make bowling the finest sport ever, Judge Becker also called upon the individual bowler to do his part in the improvement of the sport. He urged bowlers to return to the fundamental element of sportsmanship in bowling and declared that players shouldn't forget that it still is a game. Judge Becker also voiced hope that the individual bowler would improve his etiquette in the sport.

Closing his address, Judge Becker listed two ways in which bowling could be improved. He said that the present "state of confusion" must be eliminated and that local bowling associations seek to make sure that all bowling regulations are met and adhered to in the coming years.

Mayor Is Toastmaster
Addison Jones, president of the Hudson Valley Bowling League, opened last night's program and immediately turned over the festivities to Mayor William F. Edelmuht who acted as toastmaster for the remainder of the evening. Mayor Edelmuht called upon Robert J. Stone, sports editor of the Poughkeepsie New Yorker and Charlie Tiano for brief speeches.

Following Judge Becker's speech, Los Shurtler, secretary-treasurer of the league, presented the various awards to bowlers of the Hudson Valley League. Vernon Freese, secretary of the Kingston Bowling Association, also appeared on the program and presented the A.B.C. medal to Johnny Ferraro for his high individual game of 279.

The awards are as follows:
Kingston V. Sea Gypsy Sets New Yacht Record

Havana, Cuba, April 1 (AP)—The Sea Gypsy, a 78-foot schooner owned by C. R. Vose and sailed by G. E. Brooks, both of New York, reached Havana just before midnight to establish a new record for the 284-mile yacht race from St. Petersburg, Fla.

The graceful vessel, driven by fresh westerly winds, arrived here at 11:50:25 p. m. last night to become the first of the 21 yachts in the event to cross the finish line. Only scratch yacht in the race, she was timed in 35 hours and 50 minutes to beat the old mark of 37 hours and 16 minutes set by Robert Johnson's Good News in 1940 when the sailing classic last was held.

The second boat to finish was another schooner, the Jacinta, a 76-foot craft owned and sailed by Albert Veeder of Chicago. She arrived in port at 1:02:14 a. m. today. With a handicap of 1:54:38, she held the lead over the Sea Gypsy on the basis of the corrected times.

The third boat to finish was Harry J. Burgau's 57-foot schooner Bellatrix of City Island (N.Y.). Yacht Club, which arrived at 3:08:30 a. m.

Planes Are Deteriorating

Clark Field, P. I., Monday, April 1 (AP)—Millions of dollars worth of American war planes, lined up in neat rows along runways of an abandoned Japanese airstrip here, are rapidly being converted into junk by weather and looters. Two correspondents spent hours Sunday, without authority and without being stopped or questioned, wandering through the two-mile collection of planes, which range from Mustangs to Liberators.

Cavalry Is Abolished

Washington, April 1 (AP)—Military men heard with sentimental regret today that the War Department has decided to abolish the cavalry as a separate branch of the Army. There was no official confirmation, but service publications report that a general Army reorganization proposal awaiting President Truman's approval calls for merging the horse outfits with the armored force.

U.N.O. to Occupy Sperry Factory in Long Island Area

Security Council Expected to Move From Hunter College to Nassau County Lake

Rockville Centre, N. Y., April 1 (AP)—The Nassau Daily Review-Star said today the United Nations Security Council would move its headquarters from Hunter College to the Sperry Gyroscope plant at Lake Success in Long Island's Nassau county.

The change will be made as quickly as possible, the paper quoted authoritative sources as saying.

The United Nations has been meeting at Hunter College where its agreement with the city expires May 15. It was reported that city and U.N.O. officials were in conference in New York city today.

The United Nations information office issued the following statement:

"Pending expiration of the Hunter College lease, the secretary-general is exploring all available possibilities. Thus far no decision has been reached regarding staying or leaving Hunter College."

A spokesman added that if a change should be made, the Sperry site would be one of those considered.

The daily Review-Star represented city officials as being at odds with U.N. representatives over the entire setup and desiring to return the Hunter buildings to the college, which has protested their continued use by the world organization.

No Word on Changes

Dr. Stoyan Gavrilovic, chairman of the U. N. Permanent Site Committee said he had no word on changing the interim site, but that the Sperry layout was contained in his committee's original report on temporary sites.

In commenting on reports that the Nassau site also might be made the permanent home of the United Nations, he said:

"That would require action by the general assembly, and to me would appear unlikely. The assembly has approved the Westchester-Fairfield area with its 1,000 square miles for the permanent home. All that remains now is for the committee to select the actual site within these defined boundaries."

United Nations officials have said it would require from three to five years to prepare a permanent site.

There has been no definite announcement as to the "permanent" interim site.

In Nassau county, the U. N. would utilize many of the larger estates along the north shore of the island.

Court Will Rule

Washington, April 1 (AP)—The Supreme Court today agreed to rule whether a veteran has so-called "super seniority" rights to his prewar job. The federal court of appeals in New York city decided the Selective Service Act does not give the veteran absolute job assurance over other workers who have greater length of service.

The New York court said Congress intended that a veteran was to be assured of his job for a year, but that the place to which he was restored was to be subject to the same conditions as those affecting the old job.

Veteran Is Killed

Greenwich, Conn., April 1 (AP)—Henry De Felice, 25, of Stamford, a World War 2 veteran, was found dead, stabbed in the throat, yesterday in an old foundation on the Havemeyer estate here. Crane, medical examiner, said his autopsy disclosed that the soldier's jugular vein had been pierced by a stab wound in his throat.

Radio 'Hams' Get Closer to Normalcy

New Frequency Bands Are Announced Today

By CARL F. BISSELL
West Hartford, Conn., April 1 (AP)—The nation's radio amateur operators ("hams") inched nearer today to normal peacetime operation.

With the approval of Army, Navy and Coast Guard communications officials, the government returned some 30,000 members of the American Radio Relay League at 3 a. m. (E.S.T.) what one league official termed the "first really reliable channels" since the end of the war.

Frequencies available to the postwar "ham" previously, said League Assistant Secretary John Huntoon, were "usable only occasionally for communication, either for long distance work with other countries or with the brother enthusiast next door."

F. E. Handy, league communications manager, said:

"The newly opened band provides reliable communications over distances up to 500 miles in daytime and up to 3,000 miles at night."

Handy explained that the band range (3,700 to 4,000 kilocycles) was still only "a portion" of the ham's normal 80-meter band. He said, however:

"We can now more fully carry out our plans for the A.R.R.L. emergency corps to fulfill amateur radio's traditional responsibility for emergency communication in time of disaster. We have many activities scheduled for the corps."

He listed among these a nationwide field test of portable and mobile self-powered equipment.

"Then too," he added, "we are now able to re-establish our state and national relay networks through which many thousands of amateurs have become skilled in specialized operating and message-handling procedures — training which proved invaluable during their military service."

The A.R.R.L. said Handy, expecting that within the next few years there will be more than 250,000 licensed amateur operators.

"There are now 60,000 amateur licensees," he said, "but many of them are still in service. Other thousands of returning American soldiers and sailors, trained in communications during wartime, plan to keep up their new-found interest in radio by obtaining licenses and getting on the air privately from their home."

Senators, Cards Lead Grapefruit League Standings

New York, April 1 (AP)—Washington's Senators and the St. Louis Cardinals led their divisions of the Grapefruit League today as the teams swung into the final two weeks of spring training for the regular major league campaign April 16.

Topping all National League clubs, the Cardinals swing won four of six games last week to bring their record to 13 and nine for a .591 percentage, three points higher than the New York Giants.

The Senators, splitting four games during the week, held onto first place among American League teams with 13 wins and seven losses for a .650 average. The New York Yankees were second with 27 wins, 18 lost for .600.

The Nazi underground plot to revive Hitlerism in Germany, disclosed during the week-end, is grim warning to those who would relax the military occupation that the Allied task of reformation is far from finished.

It's highly significant that this revolt centered in the Hitler youth movement, for that remains the core of the resistance to Allied authority. During my recent tour of the occupied areas mentioned in this column more than once—and want to emphasize again—that the dangerous element of the German population lies for the most part within the age range of from 14 to 35. There you will find the majority of those whom Hitler was able to hypnotize with his poisonous doctrine.

The youth movement fanatics represent the toughest of the human problems which the Allies have in German rehabilitation. These young people—the most vital element in the Reich—are so thoroughly Hitlerized that there appears to be small hope of persuading many of them to a change of heart. They can be kept in hand only by force, for force is their God.

But the thing cuts deeper than that. Since this age group is largely lost to the Allies, the most effective educational reform must be made among the younger boys and girls, the sprouting generation. There our main hope lies, and that is where the Allies are concentrating heavily.

However, the occupation authorities are up against a great handicap because, while the children are friendly enough and are receptive to the proper training in their schools, they have to be sent home to parents who belong to the Hitlerized group. Thus it's bound to come about that many children's minds will be contaminated by their fathers and mothers who will use every means to undo the Allied teaching.

So much for this dangerous Hitler youth movement, but it would be a mistake to think that this is the sole source of support for the revival of Nazism.

Appropos of this, when it was at the war crimes trials at Nuremberg a short time ago I reported to you that the defense of former Reichsmarschal Hermann Goering and some other prominent figures was directed fully as much towards whitewashing the Hitler regime as towards securing acquittal for those in the dock. In fact, it strikes me that Goering is quite resigned to conviction and is devoting his energy towards vindicating his government and thereby providing propaganda for the restoration.

State Gets Touch Of April Snowfall

Albany, N. Y., April 1 (AP)—The mercury was edging upward today after an overnight plunge that brought a touch of snow to New York state.

The temperature went as low as 14 at Ticonderoga and 15 at Glens Falls. Syracuse had a low reading of 26, with three-tenths of an inch of snow. Rochester and New York city had brief, light flurries.

Albany recorded 21 early in the morning, and the weather man said that was "normal." The record low for Albany on April 1 is nine degrees, reached in 1923.

Tonight and Tuesday will be cloudy and warmer throughout the state, the Weather Bureau said.

Kennedy Denounces Reds' Attitude at American Legion Dinner

State Commander Hits Way Vets Are Treated

Predicts 3rd War With Warning That U. S. Be Prepared

Russia's U.N.O. Boycott Presages Trouble in Affairs of World That Mean Big Upheaval

In a two-fisted attack on Russia's antagonistic attitude in the present world's stride towards a lasting peace, and on the political bungling of veteran's affairs in Washington, State Department Commander Miles D. Kennedy called for a concerted drive on the part of all American citizens to urge their representatives in Washington for a quick passage of the universal military training bill. Commander Kennedy was guest speaker at the Ulster County American Legion dinner given in his honor at the Governor Clinton Hotel Saturday evening with 250 Legion members and guests present.

Commander Kennedy, in a dynamic address before the huge gathering, pulled no punches in his denunciation of Russia's policy towards America and the rest of the peace-loving nations of the world. "It's time we stopped kidding ourselves about Russia," Commander Kennedy declared. "Throughout the past world conflict," the speaker added, "Russia had her own way with everything. Following peace talks she went away with everything. Our state department, on the other hand, came away with empty hands. If we don't watch out in the future, we'll be lucky to come away with empty hands."

Another War Looms
Charging that Russia's recent boycott of the U.N.O. parley in New York city was a certain threat to world peace, Commander Kennedy told his audience that although he hoped that the organization's talks would result in a lasting peace, he felt that there was a strong 50-50 chance that the U.N.O. talks would be a failure. "Russia's anti-U.N.O. feeling will continue," Commander Kennedy stated, "and we have no assurance that the feeling will be altered in the days to come."

Capturing the attention of every person in his audience, the Legion official predicted that there will be a third world war and that it would hit this nation without warning. He declared that Russia will continue to make advances for personal gains throughout the world and the only way in which to stop her is another world conflict.

Quotes Eisenhower
Citing General Dwight D. Eisenhower's talk before the National Legion Convention in Chicago last year, Commander Kennedy warned his listeners that the next war would come overnight. "It will be much worse than the sneak attack on Pearl Harbor," he declared.

"For this reason," he said, "we in America must be sure we're not caught napping as we were in 1918 and in 1941." The speaker went on to add that our lessons before should have taught us about disarmament. Commander Kennedy told his audience, "We must continue to make this country of ours so strong that no other nation will ever dare to attack it. If we do this," he continued, "a lasting peace may be ours, but if we shirk our duties again as we did before, the same would come."

fact will be with us again as it was in 1941 when we entered the war unprepared."

Write to Lawmakers
Coming out for quick passage of either the Legion universal military training bill or some like measure, the state commander urged his listeners to write immediately to Senators Mead and Wagner and Congressman LeFevre. "It's up to all of us to tell our representatives what we want," he declared. "There is a good possibility that the measure will never pass." Commander Kennedy stressed the fact that although the Legion has endorsed its own universal training bill, its provisions only call for a four months basic training course in that year of training. "The rest," he said, "would be used by schooling and other non-military projects." He warned, however, that either the Legion bill or some other measure must be put into law in order to keep America strong and to keep foreign nations abroad of the fact that America means business.

Situation Is Dangerous
Returning to his blast at Russia's attitude towards the United States, Commander Kennedy announced that just recently he had received information from the FBI in Washington calling to his attention the strong feeling of pro-Communist leanings in America and that such foreign elements were already working as an underground in the nation. He also declared that similar facts from Washington informed him of pro-Russia feelings in business, industry and fraternal organizations. The speaker, in view of these warnings, gave advice to all local Legion posts to be on the alert for such dangerous actions not only in their own groups but in requests for new charters. "We must be particularly careful of new charters when we know nothing about the makeup of those organizations," Commander Kennedy stated.

Hits Surplus Property Board
Earlier in his address, Commander Kennedy voiced complete dissatisfaction with the way veteran's affairs are being handled in Washington and during his speech named the War Surplus Board as being strictly inadequate in dealing with the veterans of World War 2. "It seems the only way we're going to improve this situation," he added, "is to get in there and kick them all out of office—whether they're Democrats or Republicans." The Legion is out to get the veterans of the past war for the benefit of the present war, the speaker continued, and would determine that the organization would continue to fight for the complete rights of every G.I.

Commander Kennedy in closing his speech called upon the Legion to get more and more members into the organization so that it can be one of America's great assets in keeping the nation strong. He told his listeners that at the present time the membership of the Legion in New York state was nearing the 200,000 mark.

Other Speakers
Conrad J. Heiselman, former mayor of Kingston, was toastmaster at the Legion dinner and introduced the other speakers throughout the evening. Edward Lingenfelter, Third District commander; Gordon F. Irvine, county commander; Mrs. Harold Burdett, staff president of the Legion Auxiliary; Mrs. Ida Ashby, state secretary and treasurer of the Auxiliary; Mrs. Stanley Matthews, Third District chairman; and Mrs. Ernest Jansen, Ulster county chairman of the Legion Auxiliary.

During the evening Paul Zucca and Clarence Brown led the assemblage in group singing with Mrs. Verr Nessel accompanying. Arrangements for the successful dinner were headed by Thomas Bohan, vice commander of the Ulster County American Legion, and his committee.

have not been happy in their self-chosen exile from the council.

'Great News'

He termed the dues-payment announcement "great news." There is still the fact that Moscow and Tehran have not replied yet to the council's request of last Friday for clarification of the Iranian occupation matter. The deadline is Wednesday.

The council wants to know, in effect, whether the Russian troops were a tool to pry out oil concessions, or stated more formally, is Russia's fulfillment on her announced intention to remove these troops dependent on negotiations between Iran and Russia?

Persons familiar with the views of Secretary of State Cordell Hull and Sir Alexander Cadogan of Great Britain said these two leaders in the Russian-opposed move to bring the question of Iran before the Security Council are satisfied their stand is sound.

They were said to feel that "the right thing has been done" and that they should pursue the course they have taken. Byrnes argued especially in the council that to state Iran now might cost the United Nations the confidence of other small powers. Three of these small nations are the only ones beside Russia to have paid in full their share of the United Nations working capital. They are Belgium with $332,750; The Netherlands with $337,000; and Norway with $169,000.

The United States was assessed $6,153,000 of which it has paid $500,000. Britain has paid $300,000 of her $3,692,750 assessment. In the absence of any official statement as to Russia's intention of complying with the request for more information on Iran, even the date of her funds-paying announcement came in for scrutiny. A cable to Secretary-General Lie from Andrei Vishinsky, deputy minister of foreign affairs, said the transfer was made March 31. It was two days earlier that the council initiated its inquiry on Iran.

Persons coupling these dates speculated that Russia would hardly have paid up at this time if the council's course on the Iranian question had offended her. Most were inclined to wait for official news, however.

Gromyko Gives No Answer

Gromyko as late as last night would not answer reporters' questions as to whether he would attend the Wednesday meeting which will end the week-end council recess. He said without elaboration that he had spoken with Lie "a couple of days ago."

Byrnes is said to have definite feeling that the council request for information affords Russia a graceful way out of its boycott policy on Iranian discussions in the council room.

The secretary of state spent the week-end in Washington, working on department matters. Recent dispatches from Moscow have said the Russians find it difficult to understand why the United States is so concerned about Soviet troops in Iran when it maintains troops in China, Iceland and elsewhere. Soviet observers said the United States and Britain seemed to be violating the principle of "no party to the war."

sein Ala, has stated formally that "international peace and security are threatened."

Moscow Reaffirms

By EDDY GILMORE
Moscow, April 1 (AP)—Russia's emphatic intention to remain a working partner in the United Nations with no thought of withdrawing is being reaffirmed in many quarters in Moscow every day.

Two foreign representatives in responsible diplomatic posts said today they had received strong though unofficial assurances within the last three days. Soviet spokesmen, press commentators and lecturers are taking a strong line on this question, generally basing their conclusions on Premier Stalin's recent answers to this correspondent.

"The Soviet Union is paying great attention to the U.N.O.," declared the well-known lecturer on world affairs, Alexander Leontiev, in an address at the Hall of Columns, the Soviet Union considers it a serious instrument for preserving international peace and security.

Speaking to a packed house, Leontiev, whose remarks were published in Pravda today, said: "A number of Prime Minister Stalin's statements bear witness to this. Comrade Stalin pointed out in his answer to an Associated Press correspondent's question that the strength of this international organization is based on the principle of equal rights of all states and not on the principle of the domination of any states by any others."

"It is natural," Leontiev continued, "that differences in opinion are going to emerge on a number of questions. There will be contradictions between the great powers, but the problem is to surmount these hardships and to find a joint agreement in decisions on international affairs."

The lecturer said the Soviet Union was throwing all its weight toward securing firm peace and security between peoples and consistently urging the applying of democratic principles to relations between all countries, large and small.

April Makes Debut In Chilly Setting

Mid-Summer Temperature Erased by Mercury's Sudden Drop

Freezing temperatures early this morning were the weatherman's contribution of an April Fool's Day joke to Kingston residents.

With the official city thermometer recording as low as 29 degrees during early hours today, Skat'ee formed during the night, and throughout the morning the sky was dark and overcast.

The sudden change in the weather from the mid-summer temperatures that prevailed last week in Kingston started on Saturday when the official thermometer readings ranged from 39 to 63 degrees.

Sunday much colder weather enveloped the city with the thermometer ranging from a low of 31 degrees to a high of 47 degrees during the afternoon.

According to the readings of the official thermometer March was ushered in with temperatures ranging from 15 to 43 degrees, but as the month advanced Kingston with temperatures as high as 83 degrees, being recorded in the shade last Wednesday, while the following day the mercury hit a high of 82 degrees in the shade.

The highest temperature in March in the city was 83 degrees while the lowest point reached was 15 degrees.

During the month there was a total rainfall of 1.16 inches in the city.

facilities for an undisclosed number of employees.

Although Mr. Sauer, president of the Saugerties Chamber of Commerce, said he hoped the reports were not true, he made no effort to hide his disappointment.

"I've been asked to secure housing for some of the G.E. officials and employees," he said, "but I don't have the exact number. Just where we are going to house them is a problem that will have to be solved in the very few days."

Further Clarification Awaited
Mr. Sauer expressed the hope that further negotiations with G.E. officials might clarify the situation and result in a change of plans whereby the emphasis would be placed on male labor.

Up to the moment everyone is pretty much in the dark on just what G.E. plans to do here. We don't know what type of applications will be manufactured and we won't be able to say anything definite until G.E. takes over and makes known its plans," he said.

Despite the disappointment and consternation created by the G.E. announcement seeking female help, the fact remains that until further

Moore Commission Aid Plan Signed

Albany, N. Y., April 1 (AP)—The Moore Commission plan of per capita state aid to localities bore Governor Dewey's signature today.

The program, passed by the 1946 Republican-controlled Legislature over sharp Democratic opposition, was signed by the governor Saturday. It substituted for the old system of shared taxes, a method by which the state grants fixed annual sums to localities on a population basis.

Cities will get $6.75 per person, towns $3.55 and villages $3.00 instead of the former fluctuation shares of several state taxes.

Sophoulis called on Regent Archbishop Damaskinos at noon today and formally tendered his resignation in accordance with an earlier promise, but the regent asked him to remain as premier for a few days longer.

The American-British-French mission observing the election announced in London it would issue a report April 10 on the fairness of the voting. Russia had declined to send observers.

Japanese Women Find Voting Idea Unusual, Strange

By BOY ROBERTS
Tokyo, April 1 (AP)—May I go to the polls with my baby on my back?
That's a question Japanese women repeatedly ask of Wae Lt. Ethel Weed, Cleveland, Ohio, who has been telling them about exercising their new franchise at the April 10 elections.
Other questions frequently put to Lieutenant Weed, head of the women's subsection of the Civil Information and Education Section of Allied headquarters, include:
What happens in America when the man of a family votes one way and the woman another?
How do girls in the United States learn about politics?
What do men think about women who become active in politics?
Lieutenant Weed said the kind of questions women are asking emerging from their homes in increasing numbers to attend meetings on suffrage and politics.
At one place, the women waited two and a half hours to hear Lieutenant Weed talk on women's participation in politics.
"They had so many questions it was practically impossible to bring the meeting to a close," she related. "There was no light in the building and it became so dark I couldn't see the audience and the women couldn't see me, but they still went on asking questions."
Japanese women are expressing themselves more and more at the meetings. In particular they have something to say on the subject of equal wages for equal work. Women who become active in politics offer opinions on the nation's food problems.
Lieutenant Weed cited a report of Kyoto News Agency that 80 women are running for The Diet, among them teachers, housewives, writers, farm women, a doctor, a poet, a painter, two Buddhist nuns, midwives, and social workers. She said the youngest is 26; the oldest 66. Thirty-two are college graduates.
Japanese women dislike organization "since it still means to them the kind of organization they knew during the war years, when everything was organized from the top down," the Wae officer said. "But they finally are becoming conscious that by organizing together they can influence the government."
She noted that a group of fishermen presented a petition regarding food rationing to Allied headquarters, another called on the welfare ministry to demand higher wages and a group of women ministers are presenting a petition to the welfare ministry.
Mozart died after completing a requiem Mass which so depressed him that he was convinced it was for his own funeral.
From the earliest times garlic has been used as an article of diet.
